SPRING AT TIDIOUTE OVERLOOK

Spring is coming to the Tidioute Overlook as this scene, north along the Allegheny River toward Warren amply testifies. As the beautiful Allegheny Valley once again is reborn, a boy muses on the glories of nature and the mysteries of the universe. The valley, a favorite camping and resort spot for the traveler and vacationist, has picnic tables and fireplaces placed throughout the area by the U.S. Forest Service, and convenient disposal cans. Council Approves Doubling Parking Fees, Limiting Time

An ordinance doubling the cost of on street parking and limiting the parking time to one hour in most areas passed first reading. Monday in Warren Borough Council.

Under the ordinance meters now giving an hour's parking for a dime would be replaced by meters offering a half-hour parking for a nickel and six minutes for one cent. The meters would take more than one penny for multiple intervals of six minutes. The maximum time in most areas would be an hour for ten cents, the exception being meters on the west side of Market st, north from Pennsylvania ave, where the time limit would be two hours. The 15 minute-five cent meters would continue in operation.

Councilman Ray Marti, chairman of the planning committee which studied changes in the parking procedures, said the increased cost of parking and the time limit would speed up the turnover in use of parking spaces. The changes would also serve to encourage the all day shopper and downtown employees who feed nickels into meters through the day to use parking lots, several councilmen agreed.

Councilmen David Winans and Tony Tomassoni said the increased rates might drive shoppers away from patronizing borough stores.

The borough already owns meter heads to fit the ordinances requirements and cash outlay would be insignificant, Councilman Karl Timm said.

Also passing first reading was an ordinance establishing alternate parking on Hammond st, from Pennsylvania ave, to Madison ave. The establishment of 10 a.m. as the official time for changing legal parking from one side of the street to the other brought comment from Mayor Donald E. Conaway that 10 p.m. would be more appropriate for the changeover, since people who park their cars in the morning are at work when the parking changes. Councilman Timm countered with the disadvantages, on a street he characterized as residential, of persons getting out of bed or leaving parties to move their cars. Councilman Rockwell O'Sheill objected to the ordinance on the grounds that alternate parking is experimental and has not yet proved successful on Liberty st, where it was instituted.

Council President James Torrance read a letter from Councilman O'Sheill recommending action to expedite removal of the Penn-Central tracks that run down fourth ave. Torrance said he was in favor of calling a special session of council if necessary to see COUNCIL, Page 2

General Plans Approved For New South St. School

The board of directors of the Warren County School District Monday night approved the general scheme of the new South Street School.

The new elementary school will be constructed at the same site as the existing school. Architects for the new structure, it was noted, have recommended the new school building be a two-story structure.

In other action, board members heard a report by the transportation committee that "unsafe bridges" in the county cause buses to travel additional mileage picking up pupils.

Dr. Thomas K. Barratt, school superintendent, said some buses have to detour because certain bridges are not designated to handle the weight of the vehicles.

Effective June 30, 1969 the Watson Township Elementary School, known as Plank Road School, will be closed. The pupils, board members said, will be re-assigned to other elementary schools in the district.

Board members re-elected John Haggerty Jr. school district treasurer, and Robert Lundberg, assistant treasurer.

The board, acting according to past action, authorized the superintendent to approve year end events in elementary schools.

Generally, this involves 2 to 3 hours and the activities are largely of the picnic-lunch variety, it was noted.

The principals of the county's high schools submitted lists of seniors to be certified for graduation. Graduation exercises are scheduled for June 11.

Tidioute Council to Adopt Sewage Ordinance July 1

TIDIOUTE — Tidioute Council will adopt a sewage ordinance July 1. At the first reading of the revised ordinance to levy a monthly sewage fee, the council accepted it as read at its meeting Monday night. Final adoption has been set for July 1, 1969, following required readings.

The complete ordinance will be published in the Warren Times-Mirror and Observer after final acceptance.

The roster of residents listed for personal tax exemption for the 1968 was accepted as presented. In answer to a request to the commissioner of State Police, for radar in the borough, council was advised by members of the Public Relations staff of the state police that radar for the borough could not be approved but radar check posts will be placed on Rte. 62, near Tidioute Bridge, and state police will make frequent checks in the borough.

There was considerable discussion regarding the costs of installing water meters in borough business places and the cost of frost-proof boxes for the meters. Council went on record asking the municipal authority to reevaluate the locations where meters will be needed. The list will then be presented at a future council meeting.

Acting in reply to a letter from Civil Defense to approve the appointment of a Tidioute resident to act as borough civil defense director, resulting in Lt. Col. Joseph C. King being approved by council for the position.

Miss Mary Ellen Morrison was selected as a part-time borough assistant.

Council gave permission for the volunteer fire company to handle the fireworks shooting the Fourth of July. Fireworks will be at the same riverbank location as last year.

Permission also was given to the VFW to hold a street dance July 5, and to have Main st. closed, between Green and Depot sts.

The next council will be Monday, June 16.

Nixon to Report To Nation Wed. On Peace Prospects

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon plans a report to the nation Wednesday night "on the prospects of peace in Vietnam." But he is not expected to announce any major breakthrough in the Paris talks or any U.S. troop withdrawals.

It will be the President's first major speech on Vietnam since he took office. No time has yet been announced for the half-hour report which will be available for live television and radio broadcast.

Along with the White House announcement of the speech came word that President Nixon conferred at length Monday with the U.S. military commander in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton Abrams, who flew to Washington for a fast-paced two-day round of consultations.

Nixon spent two hours Monday morning in talks with Abrams, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's special adviser on national security affairs.

Afterward, Nixon continued the discussion at a White House luncheon to which he invited members of the Senate and House Armed Services Committees.

Abrams arrived in Washington Sunday and began talks with some top officials then.

It was Nixon's first session as President with Abrams.

According to presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, Abrams reviewed for Nixon the military situation in Vietnam. The review included, Ziegler said, enemy military activities, possibilities of new enemy offensive action, the state of training of the Vietnamese army—elements that relate to the level of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

These forces now number about 540,000 and there has been increasing agitation in Congress and out for an early withdrawal of some of the troops, even if this were done unilaterally without a related withdrawal of North Vietnamese soldiers.

The President's talk with Abrams was described as a general review and not a special discussion of possible troop withdrawals.

Ziegler emphasized that any decision on troop withdrawal will be made on the basis of these three criteria, previously

Silent Alarm Alert Ready For Hijacked Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A silent alarm system enabling the pilot of a hijacked plane to notify ground controllers of his plight without speaking to them is in use now, it was learned Monday.

Because ground stations can be alerted without the pilot speaking, it is hoped that the system may reduce the risk of violent panic reactions by hijackers—or perhaps even offer some opportunity for aborting the air pirate's plans.

A spokesman for the Federal Aviation Administration said that receipt of the silent distress signal enables the controllers to give the plane immediate clearance for wherever the pilot wants to go. And it makes it possible to order other air traffic out of the way for the protection of the hijacked plane.

"We have not published this information because we did not want it to become common knowledge," an FAA official said.

"It has long been generally known in the industry that we can use the normal radio transponder in the airplane, with a separate code, if the pilot has a problem."

The switch to a slightly different code involves only a minor, virtually undetectable finger movement by the pilot. It is unlikely to be observed by the man with the gun, and avoids the need for talk that might alarm a crazed or disturbed individual.

The signal causes the plane to show up on the controller's radar scope not as a normal identification blip but as a double slash signal.

Speculators Unload Marks, Hedge on Pounds and Francs

LONDON (AP) — Some of the big money men backed away from the West German mark Monday, retreating into the dollar but apparently avoiding an immediate return to the British pound and French franc.

The dollar, pound and franc have come under heavy pressure in the past two weeks with money speculators and investors gambling on an upward revaluation of the German mark. Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger of West Germany rejected revaluation Friday and this started the switch back to the dollar Monday.

The name of the international money game now was wait and see—whether the Germans could make their decision stick, with new internal spending measures and perhaps government banking controls to be discussed by the Cabinet this week.

Thus the heat went off the latest currency crisis but not by much and possibly only for a short time.

West Germany disclosed that $600 million worth of foreign currency poured out of the country Monday.

But this was only about 15 per cent of the $4 billion that a government spokesman said West Germany had unwillingly taken in since Charles de Gaulle's April 28 resignation shook the money markets.

This outflow represented the hottest of the "hot money" chasing a quick profit. But most of it remained on deposit in Germany—in case the Germans prove unable to resist world pressures to upvalue.

This, if it happened, probably would not come until after the

Treasury Urges Removing All Silver from Coins

(c) N.Y. Times News Service

WASHINGTON — The Treasury disclosed Monday that it will ask Congress to authorize production of non-silver half dollars and dollars, thus ending all silver coinage but restoring these almost vanished coins to circulation.

At the same time the Treasury took these actions:

- Ended the ban on melting and export of the old silver coins no longer being produced.
- Reduced its weekly sales of surplus silver to industry from 2 million to 1.5 million ounces and indicated that these sales would continue for two years, or until the present surplus of 150 million ounces run out.
- Adopted a plan for selling 2.9 million rare silver dollars still in the Treasury's vaults.

Monday's actions came after a meeting of the commission on the coinage and marked the Nixon administration's first policy decisions on the silver and coinage issue.

There are no basic problems with the nation's coinage. But the representatives of vending machine industry and others have been anxious to have half dollars and dollars in circulation.

This partly reflects inflation. If Congress approves the new legislation, machines will almost certainly be built to take dollar coins, and the "cartwheel" may again become a coin in common circulation in all parts of the country, not only in the West.

Another reason for making non-silver dollar coins is the needs of the gambling industry in Nevada. At present dollar "tokens" are being used and have value, even though they are not legal tender.

The end of the ban on melting of outstanding silver dimes, quarters, half dollars and dollars will not, in the view of Treasury officials, produce an early demand for these coins at a premium by melters. At the present market price of silver of $1.75 an ounce, given the costs of melting the coins and extracting the silver, there will not be a large premium on the coins, according to current estimates.

However, the market price could go up and if it does, the premium on these old coins will rise.

$200,000 Bradford Fire Believed Set by Arsonists

BRADFORD — Bradford firemen were still on the scene of a $200,000 fire at an early hour this morning, believed set by arsonists early Monday morning.

Fire Chief Norman Rathfon said a three-story brick building at 165 Main st. in downtown Bradford, was apparently set by person or persons unknown who broke into the side door at Carl's Furniture, Carl Singer was the building's owner, the chief said.

Bradford firemen were called to the scene at 2:15 a.m. Monday, in the city's first general alarm fire in several months. Bradford Township volunteer firemen were also called to the scene, as the blaze destroyed most of the brick building.

Chief Rathfon said three deluge trucks, several 2½-inch hand lines, and hose piped from the 700-foot aerial ladder were used to bring the fire under control. What the fire didn't destroy was knocked down, the chief said, and pumps were still on hand this morning, wetting the building down.

The chief said the first floor of the building was used for furniture display while the second floor was occupied by stock, including table and floor lamps. Firemen were told insurance on the main building amounted to $197,000, while there was added insurance of $20,000 on an adjoining building there was smoke but no fire damage.

When the flames brought down parts of the furniture building, part of the wall went through the roof of Clark Brothers Machine Shop next door.

Thomas E. Keane, 37, a Bradford fireman was taken to Bradford General Hospital, after he suffered a broken right forearm while fighting the fire. He was ordered to remain overnight at the hospital and will be off duty about six weeks, Chief Rathfon said.

The furniture building at one time was the site of the Imperial Hotel, a stopping-over place well-known in Bradford's oil boom heyday.

OBITUARIES

Dr. Clarence V. Halpin

Dr. Clarence V. Halpin, 74, 1544 New Holland Pike, Lancaster, an uncle of Dr. Robert A. Probst and Richard T. Probst, Warren, was pronounced dead at the scene of a head-on collision two miles north of Manheim, Pa., Sunday afternoon, May 11, 1969.

John Adam Cox, Potomac, Md., Dr. Halpin's son-in-law and driver of the auto Halpin was riding in, is reported in serious condition following the accident.

Dr. Halpin was born in Pompey, N.Y., the son of Mark and Julia Carroll Halpin. He was a graduate of Courtland State Teachers College and the University of Pennsylvania Dental School. He has practiced dentistry in Lancaster since 1923. He was a past president of the Lancaster County Dental Society, a member of the Pennsylvania Dental Society, Fifth District Dental Society, Society of Dental Anesthesiologists, Federal Dentarie and was a fellow of the International College of Dentists.

He was the first dentist to operate the Lancaster City Dental Clinic and was former chief of oral surgery at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lancaster. He belonged to the Lancaster Elks, Hamilton Club and Lancaster Country Club. He served in the United States Army during World War I.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Julianne Cox; a sister, Mrs. Melville S. (Anne) Kelley, Syracuse; a grandson and several nieces and nephews. A. R. Probst, Warren, is a brother-in-law.

Services will be held in Fred R. Groff Funeral Home, Lancaster, at 11 a.m. Wednesday. The family has asked, in lieu of flowers, memorials be made to the dental department of St. Joseph's Hospital.

Corvairs Discontinued By General Motors

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. gave up Monday on a one-time success—the compact, rear-engine Corvair, suffering from sales anemia since industry critic Ralph Nader jumped on it in his book, "Unsafe At Any Speed," in late 1965.

GM announced Monday the Corvair line will be killed off Wednesday—1,710,000 vehicles sold since its introduction in the fall of 1959.

The terse announcement gave no explanation other than: "It is our regular practice to review our product offerings."

The Corvair nameplate thus becomes something of a grave yard marker, like that of Ford's ill-fated Edsel—1957-59—and the DeSoto—1928-1960—Studebaker, Packard, Hudson, Hupmobile and Maxwell, among others.

Nader insisted in his book the Corvair, first air-cooled, rear-engine American make, was unstable in design and unsafe. Scores of damage suits followed against GM by Corvair owners. GM vigorously defended the Corvair as safe, and a spokesman said Monday the company never had lost finally a Corvair damage suit based upon any alleged design fault.

While some sued, other Corvair owners plastered their bumpers with "I Love My Corvair" stickers and formed Corvair-boosters clubs.

Between October and December of 1959, GM sold 47,395 Cor-

BAD HABIT
VIENNA (AP) — The habit of using his hand in a Napoleonic-like pose led to the arrest of a man wanted for robbery.

The victim of the robbery remembered that one of the culprits constantly placed his hand between the buttons of his jacket and police had little trouble finding the man nicknamed "Napoleon" by his friends.

Nixon

set forth by Nixon:

—"The ability of the South Vietnamese to defend themselves in the areas we are now defending them."

—"The progress of the Paris talks."

—"The level of enemy activity."

The flurry of presidential action concerning Vietnam comes at a time when the Viet Cong have set forth a 10-point program for achieving a peace settlement and amid reports of a stepped-up enemy military pressure in Vietnam.

Ziegler was asked if there is any special reason why the Nixon-Abrams meeting was held at this time and why the President is going on the air now.

"The President had planned to meet with Gen. Abrams previously," Ziegler said, adding "So you should not directly relate the two together. In other words, one is not the result of the other."

pass a resolution supporting removal of the tracks.

Other ordinances passed on first reading would provide for parking only on the west side of Oak st. from Pennsylvania ave. to Peach st. and acceptance of Tremont st. from Oneida ave. to Onondaga ave.

Selling of newspapers and periodicals on street corners was authorized upon second reading of an ordinance were regulation of truck traffic on Chestnut st. between Fourth and Fifth; approval of a second inspection agency to expedite inspection of electrical installations according to borough codes, and the rezoning of the South st. School property from C-3 commercial to R-3 residential. Set back limits on swimming pools were reduced from 25 ft. to 15 ft.

An alley between Rankin st. and Fifth ave. was accepted and christened Wren Way in keeping with the wishes of petitioners requesting acceptance by the borough.

Robert C. Dilks was named to the borough Zoning Hearing Board to replace Karl Timm. His term expires Jan. 1, 1970. Borough manager Frank Strange was appointed sewer rental collector. The post had been held by Alan Stephens since the resignation of former borough manager Victor Miller.

Rockwell O'Sheill was named chairman of a committee to plan dedication ceremonies for the Warren swimming pool which is scheduled to open on Memorial Day.

Commissioners

Borrow $75,000

The Warren County Commissioners authorized the borrowing of $75,000 Monday morning and noted the loan would be used to pay off an earlier loan.

The commissioners will borrow the $75,000 from Warren National Bank at four per cent interest. The money will be used, they said, to pay on an amount that has already been borrowed at four and one-half per cent interest.

The county, to date, has borrowed $225,000 from Warren borough's two banks. This is the second loan from Warren National Bank.

Commissioners also approved the paying of bills totaling $30,737.68. Bills included the yearly installment for the county's share of the airport, $11,600; the Rouse Home payment of $6,600, and payments for welfare, prisoners and institutionalized care.

Two resolutions were passed concerning the Warren County Redevelopment Authority, one covering the land for the new Liberty st. development and the other the actual sale of the land. The resolutions, already approved, were repassed to meet government specifications on wording.

Commissioners approved funds for work at the old Tidoute Cemetery in answer to a request from the Lions Club. It was noted the county is responsible for upkeep of such cemeteries.

Traffic Suspensions

The Bureau of Traffic Safety has issued its weekly list of suspensions and revocations. These in Warren County include: William L. Black, Sugar Grove, indefinite; Charles E. Fitch Jr., R.D. 2, Tidoute, one year; Teddy N. Heverly Jr., 206 Redwood st., Karen L. Meadows, Tiona, Daniel A. Stone, Jr., 18 Horton ave., Sheffield; Carl J. Zimmer, Sheffield; Harvey O. Trimble, Warren, all 60 days.

Kenneth E. Haight, 626 Beech st.; William G. McCune, 82 Camp st., 30 days each; Philip B. Mann, 12 South Carver st., until proof from New York authorities.

The license of James G. Fitzgerald, R.D. 1, Tiona, was ordered suspended for 30 days.

Warren Given Information On Abe Fortas' Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell confirmed Monday that he gave Chief Justice Earl Warren secret government information on the affairs of Justice Abe Fortas.

That was the only solid development in a day abounding with rumors—and counter-rumors—that Fortas plans to resign in face of vague reports of new disclosures and clamor that he bare all of his out-of-court financial activity.

The justice himself maintained the silence that he adopted soon after his latest trouble erupted.

He issued a statement immediately after Life magazine said that he accepted a $20,000 payment from a charitable foundation set up by the family of financier Louis Wolfson, now in jail on securities law violations. The article said the fee was returned but not until 11 months after its receipt.

In his statement Fortas acknowledged that a fee was proffered and returned but he did not say what sum was involved or how long the money was kept. He did deny any impropriety, said he never had used his influence as a judge in Wolfson's behalf and noted he dis-qualified himself when matters affecting Wolfson were before the court.

Surplus Food

Surplus food will be distributed to all Sheffield area recipients from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Wednesday, May 14, from the Fire Hall, and to all Russell area recipients from noon to 3 p.m., Friday, May 16, from the Fire Hall.

All recipients are requested to bring their own containers.

Jamestown Okays Sale Of Buildings

JAMESTOWN — Despite strong disapproval by the Jamestown Planning Commission, City Council Monday night approved a resolution to sell the Broadhead Mills building for $7,000.

In a letter to Council, the Planning Commission said it objected to the sale of the First st. property because it was inconsistent with long-range planning. The commission added it would have no objection to a lease arrangement with Venice Corp. of Fredonia, the new owners.

But the matter was not discussed by council. Several councilmen, however, spoke in favor of the sale, including Sixth Ward Councilman J. Emerson Weaver. Weaver said the building is costing the city more than $36,000 yearly. He also noted the Board of Education, which had expressed an interest in the property had no plans to develop the area for at least 10 years.

Planning Commission members pointed out, if and when the high school expands, it would most certainly expand westerly, the present site of the mills.

The vote to sell the First st. property to the Fredonia company was unanimous with Third Ward Councilman Joseph Anzalone Jr. abstaining after he had been granted permission by fellow councilmen. No reason was offered for his abstention.

First Live Color Telecast From Space Scheduled

NEW YORK (AP) — The world will see the first live color television from space next week when Apollo 10 flies to the moon.

Upto three hours of live television—more than any previous flight—will be transmitted during the eight-day voyage of the spaceship after blastoff at 12:49 p.m. Sunday, May 18.

All but one of the 11 transmissions planned from the Apollo will be in color. They will be 10 to 20 minutes each, with one scheduled for 40 minutes.

Viewers should be able to see the lunar module separate from the Apollo for the first time to descend to within 50,000 feet of the moon's surface. The module will not carry a television camera.

Jim Kitchell, executive producer of space coverage for NBC, describes this as "the television flight" of the Apollo series.

Reception, even on black and white sets, is expected to be greatly improved by use of a new 7½-pound color camera manufactured by the Westinghouse Electric Corp.

The only black and white transmission will come at 6:34 a.m. Saturday, May 24, after the Apollo completes its burn to leave lunar orbit. Apparently the reason is that the astronauts will need part of the band width to transmit data as the craft comes behind the moon.

Here are the planned transmissions from Apollo 10:

Sunday, May 18, at 3:49 p.m. (all times EDT)—Astronaut activities, removal of the lunar module from the third stage and docking, 15 minutes.

Terrorist

Attacks

Drop Sharply

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy gunners and terrorists struck in and around Saigon overnight, but the allies reported Tuesday that attacks nationwide dropped sharply from the surge of the night before.

Five rockets hit without effect in open areas of Tan Son Nhut air base on Saigon's northern outskirts and one damaged a vehicle and a guard post 1½ miles from the center of the capital. No casualties were reported.

The U.S. Command listed 14 significant shelling country-wide and the South Vietnamese reported 27 with over-all casualties light. That contrasted with 150 attacks the previous night, the highest total since the enemy's Tet offensive in 1968.

A.U.S. spokesman said the total for Tuesday undoubtedly would rise as additional reports come in, but not to the scale of the day before.

The military commands put no label on Monday's sudden outburst. Speculation ranged from a prelude to another offensive to "just a busy night." A government spokesman earlier called it an attempt to influence the Paris peace talks and U.S. public opinion.

Three terror grenade attacks were reported Monday night in the Saigon area in the continuing terror campaign that built up last week. Seven persons were reported wounded in the latest blasts.

One of the heaviest ground actions reported Tuesday was in the Mekong Delta, 23 miles southwest of Saigon where soldiers of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division engaged an enemy force Monday. Sporadic fighting went on into the night as American and South Vietnamese reinforcements were moved in.

Monday at 4:04 p.m.—Views of earth and lunar module, 15 minutes.

Tuesday at 6:49 p.m.—Views of receding earth, the moon and sun, 15 minutes.

Wednesday—At 1:09 p.m., scenes of moon approaching lunar orbit, at 9:34 p.m., moon from 60 nautical miles, 15 minutes each.

Weather Bureau

Girl Watching

For Hurricanes

MIAMI (AP) — The Miami Weather Bureau is girl watching again, this year for a string of blustery prospects with names ranging from Anna to Wendy.

Those are the first and last names waiting for hurricanes that may spin out of the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico in the coming months.

Hurricanes traditionally named after women. The storm season begins in June.

A Miami weather man said the names were compiled to Washington, with Miami forecasters contributing their choices to the list.

Seven hurricanes in 1968 claimed the lives of 11 persons and caused millions of dollars in damages as they cut swaths through the Caribbean, along the coast of Florida and into Texas.

Besides Anna and Wendy, the 1969 storms would be called Blanche, Carol, Debbie, Eve, Francella, Gerda, Holly, Jenny, Kara, Laurie, Martha, Netty, Orva, Peggy, Rhonda, Sadie, Tanya and Virgy.

Nixon Enjoys New Offices In Old Locale

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon can walk across the street now, mount a flight of stairs, and go into a new casual office in the old, ornate executive office building.

Almost from the day he took office, the President talked about having another working quarters beside the oval presidential office in the White House proper. He wanted a place to go where he could get out his yellow pad and jot down ideas or work closely with his staff in a little more seclusion than he would have otherwise.

The new quarters have touches of old, familiar things—treasures and trophies, such as a collection of elephants and another of gavel, plus gifts received on world travels.

And there is an old presidential desk which seems to be in line for getting another presidential signature in the middle drawer. Already there are the signatures of Dwight D. Eisenhower, Harry S. Truman and Lyndon B. Johnson—under a glass cover.

Mrs. Nixon worked with Mrs. Sarah Jackson Boyle, a New York designer and decorator, in furnishing the place. Some of the things came from the New York apartment the Nixons gave up, including the gifts, elephants, and gavel.

The office is directly opposite the west wing of the White House. But the steps leading up to it have been closed off for years. Now they lead up openly to a portico with tall granite columns.

Trash Dumping Costs Man $34

A Warren man has paid a $25 fine plus $9 costs for dumping a quantity of trash on National Forge property at Irvine.

Deputy D. A. Irvine investigated a report that on April 27, John P. Piccirillo, Parker St., Warren, dumped trash on the land of National Forge on Route 2462, 200 yards south of Irvine.

Piccirillo was arraigned before Justice of the Peace F.A. Perry on May 6.

Husky Negro Faces Death In Cop Killings

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Black Nationalist Fred "Ahmed" Evans was convicted Monday and sentenced to death for the slaying of three policemen and a civilian during racial violence last July.

The tall, husky 37-year-old Negro, his arms and legs shackled, was taken to the Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus. The date for execution in the electric chair was set for Sept. 22.

The all-white jury of seven women and five men began deliberations Saturday and returned their verdict shortly after noon.

Defense attorneys asked the 12 jurors be polled and they affirmed, a total of 84 times, that their finding had been guilty on each of seven charges.

Judge George J. McMonagle of Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court, who sentenced Evans, 37, told him: "Let's hope your punishment will be a deterrent."

Before hearing his sentence, Evans, clad in African style garb, declared in court:

"I have no regret, no malice toward anyone, just the reality of the matter. This will not end by me."

Evans was one of five Black Nationalists charged with murder after the July 23, 1968 violence in Glenville, a predominantly Negro area on the far East Side. He was accused by the state of leading a band of armed Negro militants in an attack on police.

Evans' attorneys said they would file a motion Tuesday for a retrial.

Evans was taken 140 miles to the penitentiary by a five-vehicle motorcade including two sheriff's cruisers and two state patrol cars.

Evans, a former Army sergeant, was charged with seven counts of murder in the shooting deaths of three white policemen and Negro civilian James Chapman. He was charged with first-degree murder in all deaths, as well as charges of killing a policeman in the deaths of the three officers.

Evans "was expecting" the death penalty, his lawyers said. "Ahmed never had faith in the system," said defense lawyer Stanley Tolliver. "The verdict will cause those without faith to do what they feel is necessary to change the system."

His attorneys had contended throughout the seven-week trial that all four victims in whose deaths he was charged could have been killed by police.

Family of 17 Eats Beans On Federal Food Stamps

EDITOR'S NOTE—In a new government antipoverty program eight years ago, the Alderson Muncey family—living in the heart of the nation's coal bin in West Virginia—was the first in the nation to receive federal food stamps. Newsman Ed Nichols returned to the still-im-poverished area to find out how the plan has affected a man, his wife, and their 15 children.

For Muncey, who has 15 children, that would amount to an increase of at least $8 a month—and would give him enough to buy an occasional turkey.

Muncey, now 55, says he was selected in 1961 as the first recipient of the then new antipoverty program because, "I've got the largest family in McDowell County." He is a road worker employed by the state. Although this is a coal-producing region, he worked only briefly in the mines several years ago.

Though the food stamps program has helped his family and now thousands of others throughout the nation, the Munceys remain at the edge of poverty.

Mrs. Muncey said the stamp program, which has been extended nationwide since 1961, has improved the family diet, has enabled them to have butter and meat more often.

Nonetheless, she said, "Mostly it's potatoes and beans for the main meals."

On May 29, 1961, federal and state officials came to this rural coal mining region in southwestern West Virginia to witness the start of a plan aimed at adding nutrition to the diets of the poor.

In 1961 there were 13 of the Muncey children living at home. Muncey remembers he received many more stamps then for "a lot less money."

Now, seven children live in the three-bedroom house perched atop Collins Ridge. But price increases in stamps and food have erased any break of having fewer mouths to feed.

Under the current food stamp plan, a family designated as needy may, under a federal formula, purchase stamps at a reduced rate. The stamps then are traded at full value at a grocery store for certain goods.

After Social Security and other mandatory deductions are complete, Muncey's take-home pay from the State Road Commission is $35.

mission is $151.07 every two weeks. At this salary and as head of a nine-member household, he pays $102 monthly for $146 worth of food stamps.

Under the rules of the program as they are now, he can't buy more stamps or less. Stampstake the biggest slice of his meager income. But he needs more food than the stamps provide so he buys another $20 in groceries every month. He also makes a monthly payment of $42 on his small 1967 car.

So all told Muncey has $138 left each month to pay all other expenses of a family of nine. Douglas Muncey, 19, the eldest boy still living at home, plans to move to Illinois this summer after graduating from high school. That will cut Muncey's allotment of stamps from $146 to $142 a month.

The Nixon plan would boost Muncey's free stamps to $52 a month, instead of the $44 he gets now—an increase of $8 a month in stamps, or a savings of $12 in cash outlay.

The family's eggs come from their own henhouse. Muncey said he had 50 hens but "the hawks and foxes are killing them off." Now there are about 25. The family also grows some vegetables on its mountaintop property.

Ministry Students Join Ranks Of Campus College Rebels

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some students for the Protestant ministry were enlisted in the ranks of campus rebels Monday, occupying the administrative building of Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

About 75 seminarians, mostly white, acted in support of Negro militant James Forman's manifesto demanding payment by religious groups of $500 million in reparations to American Negroes. A spokesman called the demonstration interracial.

Union has about 650 students, among them 14 Negroes, at the ministry on Broadway and 120th Street, across from Columbia University.

Nearby, City College of New York was operating under a new president, Joseph J. Copeland, who said "police will stay on the campus as long as they are needed."

Copeland succeeded President Buell G. Gallagher, who resigned in the aftermath of three weeks of turmoil, that included arson. During the day, a small fire bomb was extinguished in an empty CCNY classroom before causing any damage.

CCNY demonstrators have demanded greater inclusion of Negro and Puerto Rican students in the 20,000-member student body, which now includes 4,500 members of minority races.

As uprisings continued on a number of other college campuses, Robert H. Finch, U.S. secretary of health, education and welfare, warned of a backlash against student rebels that could cost them "the things dearest to their hearts."

He cited state bond issues for education and the vote for 18-year-olds, and added: "There's a great danger Congress might overreact in the field of institutional aid."

Finch told newsmen in New York that he opposed federal intervention on college campuses, believing the schools should "solve this problem on their own."

In Washington, College Management Magazine said 83 per cent of college deans who responded to a survey believe students will gain a greater voice in school administration as a result of the campus uprisings. But only 8 per cent regarded rebel student leaders as representative of the mass of American students.

About 1,500 University of Massachusetts students chipped in $1 each to take advertisements in two Boston newspapers, calling on the state legislature to restore educational funds cut from the 1970 budget.

"We're the silent majority," they said as read in part, "We don't riot, carry guns or take over buildings. We're too busy trying to get an education."

The radical Students for a Democratic Society has been in the forefront of the campus revolt. In Chicago Monday, five leaders were arrested in SDS headquarters after a scuffle, among them Michael Klonsky, 26, national secretary of the society.

They were free in bonds of up to $5,000 on charges of battery and interfering with police and firemen.

SDS was banned from St. Bonaventure University at Olean, N.Y., after the president of the Roman Catholic school, the Very Rev. Reginald Redlon, declared: "The SDS is opposed to the ideals for which this university stands."

Confidential files were stolen from a university office during a break-in last week, SDS has about 12 members among St. Bonaventure's 2,300 students.

Climaxing another night of unrest at Southern University in Baton Rouge, La., students barricaded streets on the predominantly Negro campus.

Missouri Gov. Warren E. Hearnes sought court intervention to end the occupation of the student union building of Lincoln University at Jefferson City. The action came after Dean of Students Ben Pugh was prevented from entering the building, seized last Friday by about 200 students, mostly Negro. About half the school is white.

Insurance Man

Convicted in Bank Robbery

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP)—A Federal Court Jury Monday convicted Glen Hall of North Tonawanda of the $37,800 armed robbery of a branch bank in the Syracuse suburb of Cicero.

The jury of eight men and four women deliberated seven hours before returning the verdict against the 31-year-old former insurance underwriter.

Hall, a former resident of Cicero, surrendered to FBI agents in Buffalo last Dec. 13, a day after a gunman held up a branch of Merchants National Bank and Trust Co.

Hall, who remained free in $10,000 bail, was charged with robbing a banking institution insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Co.

Justice Lloyd MacMahon of U.S. district court set sentencing for May 27.

Little Jobs Count Big, Too

If there is one area for criticism of governmental agencies all the way from the federal level right down to the county officials it is their inability to see these things which would be a convenience to the general public, or recognize existing needs of somewhat less than major proportions that would contribute to the "good" of the community. The big projects get planned, authorized, and after a considerable delay are finally funded and eventually become a reality. In the meantime, though, any number of little jobs that would make life a lot more pleasant for the average Joe are as ignored as if they never did exist.

An example of this is the current condition of the passing lane at the intersection of Routes 6 and 59. A few years ago when an "editorial" photo called attention to a need for this passing lane, and Assemblyman Tom Donnelly took a copy of the photo to Harrisburg, a hurry-up coating was applied to the muddy area by the Pennsylvania Highway Department. Since then, the fact that heavy useage has deteriorated the lane to even worse than its former condition has gone unnoticed by Highway Department officials. While secondary roads that hardly see the amount of traffic in a week that this busy intersection does in a matter of hours have been meticulously groomed, the passing lane has remained a series of deep ruts no thinking motorist would drive over, even to avoid waiting in line for traffic turning east on Route 59.

There is considerable evidence supporting the claim that this passing lane serves a definite need, especially during the evening hours and on weekends. There is substantial evidence that it is unpassable in its present condition. There's more than a little reason to wonder why this hasn't been apparent to the officials charged with the responsibility of keeping the traveling public happy.

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY JR.

The Kids' Complaint

Throughout the din, there is a sound that reaches many faculty, and a few others, who by nature look for the other side of the picture. Could it be that the students have in fact something to complain about? Have they what they call "legitimate grievances"? The assumption by these folk is that yes, they most certainly do, which is why so many faculty have sided with the students, some of them going so far as to defend even their most exorbitant protests.

Ironically, the faculty are the ones best equipped to cope with what emerges as the principal solid complaint of the students -- of serious students, I suppose one should qualify. That complaint has to do with the shirking, by professors, of teaching duties.

Mr. John Coyne Jr., lately of the graduate school at Berkeley and an eloquent critic of student extremism, says flatly that the American college student is being gypped. "The typical undergraduate is cheated in a number of ways. His fees, usually funneled into graduate programs, buy him lectures not by high-salaried professors, whose services are reserved for graduate seminars, but instead by teaching assistants, underpaid graduate students who usually work one jump ahead of their classes and who provide the slave-labor base upon which most state universities build their idealistic programs."

But the point to be made nowadays is that freedom is a matter of focus. Students at Columbia or Berkeley revolt because a building in a park is inadequately located, or because the freedom to proselytize is restricted to certain locations and certain hours.

Professor Ernest van den Haag, performing brilliantly in THE INTER-COLLEGE REVIEW, concludes that the students are really fighting excessive freedom, for failure to find enough of substance, enough which is substantively oppressive, to fight against. "... Students are reduced to rebelling against their own freedom. Thus they object to their academic freedom and insist on restricting the right of the less militant students to consider employments they disapprove of (or to listen to speakers they disapprove of), and of the faculty to undertake research they disapprove of."

Add to the difficulty, the failure of the faculty and administration to assert their own authority. That failure "makes it hard (for the students) to keep defying them. It means, for the students, that they need to go on to protest against the systemic, rather than the specific order." An overview suggests that it should be listed among student demands that the administration should not accede to them, that being the principal source of psychological satisfaction, and the only means of keeping the students' attention from cosmic re-arrangements.

The point then is that the legitimate complaints of the student are truly irrelevant to the existing crisis. That is why such grand statements as that of Amherst and others, which deal with students' grievances against the world they live in, are, as an existential matter, simply irrelevant. As irrelevant, in context, as the exact democratic composition of the South Vietnam Government; as irrelevant as the question of the legitimacy of De Gaulle when he appointed himself leader of the forces of liberation; as irrelevant as the failure of the House

MASON DENISON

Regional Jails

Part Two

HARRISBURG -- Few people, it seems, really grasp the impact of the regional jail system now being initiated in Pennsylvania -- particularly on the local level.

For one thing, as noted in this column yesterday, the regional jails are not designed to "replace" the present county jails -- but rather to supplement them in what is viewed as a "progressive correctional program" for prisoners.

Secondly, most county jails (many of which are over 100 years old and badly in need of costly repairs or replacement, by the way) far do not have adequate medical, vocational educational and treatment programs to meet the needs of all prisoners housed in these county detention facilities.

(As for the counties initiating or updating these needed programs, the cost would simply be prohibitive in the opinion of correctional officials.)

Thirdly, there will be a "local impact" where these six regional jails are located.

For example, experience has shown that land values around the regional facilities in all probability will increase and it is estimated that each regional facility will mean the creation of around 100 new jobs locally, with an annual payroll at each facility running around $800,000.

More on the economic front: Purchases for the regional facilities will be made locally wherever possible, including sizeable quantities of foodstuffs, supplies and equipment from local merchants.

It is estimated that initial construction at each facility will represent a $4,000,000 investment, consisting largely of local labor, supplies and materials.

As for "security" problems at these regional jails, State Bureau of Corrections officials contend there will be fewer problems than in existing county jails because the regional facility will be a modern institution, adequately staffed, with prisoners properly classified and supervised -- with potential troublemakers immediately transferred to state prisons, regardless of the length of their sentence. (Bear in mind, as noted yesterday, the regional jail will handle only those sentenced to more than six months but less than five years.)

In every situation there is a hierarchy of values, and to superordinate one value (where to build the gym) when another value (order and freedom) takes precedence, is to make the most critical mistake, such a mistake as Abraham Lincoln once remarked, when defending his use of power to defend the Constitution, no free society can get away with making.

Where does the regional jail program stand at this point? The state has just moved into the establishment of its first regional facility -- with the acquisition of the modern Westmoreland County Prison. This regional facility, expected to be in operation by June 1, will embrace these nine counties of "Region V": Armstrong, Indiana, Butler, Allegheny, Westmoreland, Washington, Greene and Fayette counties.

Establishment of a second regional facility is now well on the way in "Region II" covering these 15 counties: Tioga, Bradford, Susquehanna, Sullivan, Wyoming, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Wayne, Pike, Monroe, Carbon, Schuylkill, Berks, Lehigh and Northampton counties.

For this regional jail, the land has already been acquired in Lackawanna County and the project now is in the pre-planning stage. The state will build this one.

A third one is already on the agenda -- this one in "Region VI" covering Potter, McKean, Elk, Cameron, Clearfield, Jefferson, Clarion, Forest, Warren, Venango, Erie, Crawford, Mercer and Lawrence counties. Potential sites for this regional facility only now are being checked and evaluated, with funds available at the moment only for land acquisition. (The state will also build this one.)

Heading the new program is Allyn R. Sielaff, who has just been named by Attorney General William C. Sennett as Deputy Commissioner for Operations in the State Bureau of Corrections following his original appointment last July as Corrections Program and Planning Coordinator and Associate Director of the Pennsylvania Crime Commission.

As we approach Memorial Day, it behooves each and every American citizen to pause and reflect what Memorial Day means to us. Does it mean another holiday that we can do with as we see fit? Or does it mean, as it should, a day when we pause in our daily pursuit of life and pay homage to those who have gone on before, especially to those who have made the supreme sacrifice in the defense of their country and heritage?

It behooves every red-blooded citizen of our great land to participate in a Memorial Day service wherever humanly possible and to give full support to the veterans organizations who are doing their utmost to keep alive that spirit of freedom and independence that we have acquired by sweat, blood and tears.

I heartily agree and join with our Warren County Commissioners in advocating that each and every business place close at least during the Memorial Day exercises.

Investing In Gold

Part Two

(Editors' Note -- This is the second in a series of special reports on Far-Out Investments)

"Now Available . . . GOLD NUGGETS. . . $800 per pound . . . Excellent potential for short and long-term capital appreciation. . ."

"Last big chance in gold stocks. . ."

"Gold Coins . . . Most exciting in 1969. . ."

These excerpts from ads which have recently appeared in the nation's top financial journals confirm the extent to which the centuries-old glitter of gold is luring not only the ultra-sophisticated international speculator but also mounting numbers of smaller investors. Their objective is certainly understandable: in gold, they are seeking both a hedge against today's inflation spiral and the possibility of spectacular profits should the U.S. devalue the dollar as part of a worldwide realignment of currencies -- which would -- increase the official price of gold to $70 or even more from today's monetary price of $35.

How solid are the gold lures, therefore?

(1) NUGGETS. If you bought the nuggets, you would have paid $50 an ounce for this gold in its natural state -- without having any idea of their fineness (actual gold content).

You would find it exceedingly difficult to resell the nuggets at anything like this premium price -- and it would be a criminal offense to melt it into useable gold.

(2) GOLD STOCKS. If you are fortunate in your timing of purchases and sales of gold mining company stocks, you can strike it rich: some gold mining shares have soared as much as 100 per cent over 1968 levels. But as Franz Pick, the currency and gold market specialist, declares, "Anybody who has made money on gold mining shares has done so by the riskiest form of speculative trading."

Also, Pick points out, a bad flood in a South African gold mine could virtually destroy an entire mine. Furthermore, corporation taxes in South Africa are nearly as steep as in this country and would absorb all most 50 per cent of any rise in gold prices.

Right now, although the price of gold in the Paris market has soared to close to $50 an ounce, prices of stocks in many gold mining companies are lower than a year ago. Only a small fraction of the world's known reserves of gold can be economically mined -- and since labor and other mining costs would climb with any rise in the gold price, it's hard to foretell any company's earnings.

(3) GOLD COINS. Coins represent about the only practical way to own gold without tying up large sums of money -- but collectors and hoarders already have driven up coin prices to a point where prices have no relation to the value of the gold in the coin.

On the basis of $35 an ounce there is $170 worth of gold in an 1852 $1 gold coin -- but this coin retails for $175-$180 today. A U.S. double eagle ($20 gold piece) brings $75-$80 at retail now against $65 a year ago and $50 in 1967.

Of course, should there be a worldwide devaluation of currencies against gold, almost all of today's larger gold coins would be bargains. Meanwhile about the "cheapest" in terms of gold content at free market price vs. coin price are the British sovereign and the Mexican centenario, available in the U.S. at premiums of "only" 50-75 per cent.

I will not predict a devaluation of the U.S. dollar. If you want to gamble on that, gamble on your own.

One observation, I will make, though. While the odds may be the best in years on a gold price rise, over the past 35 years gold as an investment has been awful. It has risen a grand total of $14 an ounce even in Paris -- equivalent to about 1 per cent a year.

"We've bombed, strafed and torpedood her...but, she's still afloat!"

Hassle Over Otepka

WASHINGTON--Some significant developments have been taking place backstage regarding Otto Otepka, the one-time State Department official dropped by both Democratic and Republican Secretaries of State for leaking security classified papers to Sen. Tom Dodd of Connecticut.

First development took place inside the Senate Judiciary Committee last week. Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., tried to push confirmation of Otepka to the $36,000 job on the Subversive Activities Control Board. Nixon had appointed him to this post, at Dirksen's urging -- quite a promotion from his old $14,000 State Department job.

When Dirksen made this move at a closed-door session, Sens. Ted Kennedy of Massachusetts and Joe Tydings of Maryland asked to see a transcript of the Otepka hearings. They knew that a subcommittee very friendly to Otepka, including Sen. Dodd to whom he leaked the papers, had passed on his qualifications. And they suspected he had been asked no penetrating questions about his Nazi friends.

Sen. Dirksen tried to brush Kennedy and Tydings aside. But Chairman Jim Eastland, D-Miss., ruled that the Senators had a right to read galley proofs of the hearing. So a vote was delayed. It comes to a head this week.

Second development was revelation of a conspiracy to establish a new security network with Otepka at the top.

Third development was concrete evidence that Otepka has been extremely close to the neo-Nazi movement in the United States.

Thus, as a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board, charged with ruling on subversive organizations, Otepka would be called upon to pass upon the activities of his closest friends and could protect them.

It has now been established beyond any possible doubt that the Liberty Lobby was one of the most indefatigable champions of Otepka. It has further been established beyond any doubt that the Liberty Lobby is a front for the neo-Nazi movement.

At first an effort was made to conceal the links between the Liberty Lobby and the neo-Nazis. Their private link was Willis Carto, founder of both. Now, however, the Liberty Lobby is publicly pushing the sale of paperback editions of "Imperium," the new "Mein Kampf" of the Nazism in the United States.

The link between Otepka and the Liberty Lobby has never been concealed. Liberty Lobby produced and distributed a film, "The Otepka Case." Liberty Lobby bulletins have consistently defended Otepka, consistently hampered his critics.

However, the conspiracy to set up a new security organization is the most significant development of all.

The Subversive Activities Control Board to which Otepka is being appointed has been inactive for years. It hasn't heard a single case of subversion. However, rightwing Senators plan to revitalize it under Otepka's leadership.

To this end they have already made Otepka's former assistant, John Norpel, Jr., research director of the Senate Internal Security Committee.

Furthermore, they plan to pass a new Internal Security Act, S.12, giving Otepka new powers to conduct witch hunts.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., an author of S. 12, describes it as follows: "The proposed Internal Security Act of 1969, now pending in the Senate, would set up a Central Security Agency for all agencies of government, under control of the Subversive Activities Control Board."

"If this legislation passes," says Thurmond, "Mr. Otepka will once again deal with security evaluation, not only for the State Department, but for all the government."

These are some of the vital issues to be discussed behind the closed doors of the Senate Judiciary Committee. The public will not be present. Later, presumably, the issues will also be discussed on the Senate floor.

David Berger, former district attorney of Philadelphia, has worked out a new angle to cure crime in the inner cities. It's the "Justice Corps," patterned after the Peace Corps, to work with youngsters in the ghettos.

"Most people view the police and the district attorney's office as their enemy," says Berger. "We have to reverse that and make them think of the police and the DA as their friend. They should be symbols of justice, not oppression. If people are in trouble, they can come to the police. They can come to the district attorney."

"But we have to work at this--hence the Justice Corps."

Berger has started with the enlistment of Chet Walker, famous basketball star of the Philadelphia 76ers, to serve as director of the Justice Corps. The new organization is going to start seeking out injustice and trying to rectify it before it causes unrest and dissension.

Likeable Sen. Barry Goldwater, whose conservative outlook is as hardrock as the landscape of his native Arizona, has taken the Senate's Republican freshmen under his wing.

By his standards they are flaming liberals, but he doesn't seem to be trying to convert them to his conservative philosophy. He merely wants to help them overcome the bewilderment he encountered when he first came to the Senate.

ART BUCHWALD

SDS

In Business

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) have urged their members to get their hair cut, shave off their beards and sideburns and infiltrate the business community this summer. The idea is to foment revolution off the campus.

Some businessmen are fearful of the results of such an infiltration. But I think the SDS is taking a bigger chance than business. It's one thing to stick to your ideals on a campus with 50 or 60 other students giving you support, but it's another to go off all alone into the business world and keep from being corrupted.

Bearing in mind that most members of SDS are usually the brighter students, let's go to the Flipper Department Store where Barney Longstreet, an SDS leader, has managed to get a job as a trainee in the men's clothing department. For a start, Barney has been sticking pictures of Che Guevara in the suits hanging on the racks--a small thing, but as Mao Tse-tung says, "A revolutionary must work in the pocket of most resistance."

Barney does this early in the morning. Since he is always the first one there, the men's clothing buyer is very impressed with him and one day announces that he is elevating Barney from his trainee position to full salesman.

This surprise appointment leaves Barney unsettled, as he wants to pursue the life of the lowliest employee to get the feel of what it is like to be exploited by the capitalist system. Rather than reveal his true identity, Barney accepts the promotion.

His chances of fomenting revolution among the employees are limited to lunch and smoking breaks, and when Barney tells the employees what a lousy deal they have at Flipper's, he attracts a large audience.

The vice president of personnel, who has no idea what Barney is talking to the other employees about, feels that if he can attract such large audiences he must have executive potential and, therefore, he makes him a floor manager at a healthy salary increase.

Stricken with fear that he is selling out, Barney hands in a list of reforms which he says the store must agree to before he takes the job. These include Flipper's Department Store getting involved in the community, donating part of its profits to the employees and setting up an Afro-American clothing boutique.

These demands are sent up to the president of Flipper's, and after reading them he says "Why didn't we think of this first? I don't want Longstreet working as floor manager. He's too valuable to waste there. Bring him up to the executive offices."

Barney is now in real trouble because, thanks to his demands, profits of Flipper's are up 3 per cent, and he is made a vice president in charge of promotion. He is so busy thinking up new ideas that he has little time for fomenting revolution. I, keeping with his position, he has a new apartment, a new car and he spends his evenings at First Avenue bars meeting airline stewardesses. The only revolutionary activity he has time for is reading Marcuse on the Long Island Railroad when he goes to Westhampton for the weekend.

Once, in a moment of extreme guilt, Barney sits down on the floor in the president's office to show his disdain for the system. But when the president and other executives come in, they all join him on the floor and they hold a meeting on how to increase the store's charge accounts. The president finds everyone so much more relaxed when they sit on the floor that he orders all the furniture taken out of his office.

At the end of the summer Barney is offered his own store which Flipper's is opening in Westchester County; and since he's too ashamed to go back to his SDS chapter and tell the he's executive vice president Flipper's, he accepts. And the Students for a Democratic Society lose another good man.

Hospital Staff
Continues
Education

This week has been designated as National Hospital Week and Warren General Hospital is cooperating with the American Hospital Association in promoting this observance.

Education and training are two important activities of the nursing staff at Warren General Hospital, to maintain the quality of care at a high level. Patients benefit from the training of nurses in that their treatment is modern and up-to-date.

The following have attended seminars and workshops recently on subjects listed:

Mrs. Genevieve Lincoln, R.N., Operating Room Techniques; Miss Emma Moore, R.N., Nursing; Miss Suzanne Barone, R.N., Scientific Aspects of Heart Care—Philadelphia; Dennis Bromdahl, Inhalation Therapy, Trends on Respiratory Therapy, Philadelphia; Mrs. Morris Johnson, R.N., and Miss Emma Moore, R.N., Cardiac Pulmonary Resuscitation, Harrisburg; Mrs. Jean Riche, N., Mrs. Margaret Tome, N., Elements of Team Nursing, Mechanicsburg.

Gvelyn Griffin, Margaret Hanson, Anna Anderson and Ally Meacham—Public Relations, Pittsburgh; Jean Moore Housekeeping Techniques, Detroit, Mich.; Elva Burghardt, Ann Zetterlund—Dietary Management, Buffalo, N. Y.

In addition, all hospital employees are receiving instruction in mouth to mouth resuscitation and external heart massage.

Denny Bonavita From The Sports Desk

NO DIPLOMAT

"I'm no diplomat," he freely admits.

A diplomat he may not be, but a successful coach he has been. He's had two jayvee coach seasons, starting with an 11-3 record and finishing with a 14-0 mark; and before that, he spent three years at Beatty, polishing and honing a wrestling program that today embraces half a thousand wrestlers in all grade levels, and is admired as one of the finest in the area.

His handshake is firm, his happiness with his appointment is obvious in his demeanor, and yet there is an unaccustomed reticence about his conversation — it's a responsibility, this heading a program at a 1500-student Class A school as one's first head coaching assignment; and those fans—hell hath no fury like a disgruntled wrestling booster.

Sitting in his living room, amid a pile of wrestling records, his first words come out without hesitation.

"Thank you for the congratulations. I have some pretty big shoes to fill—Mike Weber's."

"I'm looking forward to this—I think we have a lot of potential next year and it should be a good season," he states in answer to a question.

"The kids—they're the big thing. This program is wonderful and it's for them. We'll take one thing at a time. Sure I'd like 300 state champions; but here, we'll shoot for the section title first, then the districts, and then. We'll have to wait and see."

The conversation turns to the coach-reporter relationships in the season to come, and here is where his reference to his diplomacy comes out.

"I'm just that way—when I see something that disturbs me, I say it—and when I say it, I say it plain out."

He does this because it's his nature—this Lee Chew, speech, English and developmental reading teacher, and now Warren High head wrestling coach.

BUT A WINNER

And from here, it looks as if we have ourselves a winner. Few people see the behind-the-scenes work that goes into, say, a holiday wrestling tournament. Reporters do, because we have the idiotic habit of being around at odd hours. This past season, no matter how odd the hour, there was Lee Chew—working. He'd talk—if you wanted to walk along beside him while he strung wires, or moved mats, or arranged programs; but he works while he talks—and works hard.

A steady but unspectacular performer himself, he got where he is today on the strength of two qualities: hard work and determination. Those, coupled with knowledge gained the hard way, through study, observation, practice and conversation, will be imparted to his grappleers. And it's the feeling from this desk that desire—that all-important quality in a sport as individualistic as wrestling—will flow freely from coach to wrestler also.

The school board did not rubber-stamp the appointment; on the contrary, they held off deciding for three months, sifting applications (fifteen were received), checking qualifications, advertising the job in leading papers, and weighing all factors.

They chose Chew.

So the discussion has ended, the decision has been made with due care and consideration, and the coach has his job to do. The people of Warren have had first-hand experience with the catastrophic effects of a head coach with a divided community, school and team behind him, and the results haven't been at all good. In this instance, if the cooperation and support of the community combined with the abilities of the students and the expertise of the coach, all that's left is winning.

The Prince No Playmate; He Just Wins His Races

BALTIMORE (AP) — Trainer Johnny Longden was grazing Majestic Prince Monday morning at Pimlico when the Kentucky Derby winner started acting up.

"Okay, he's had enough," Longden said. "I'm putting him back in his stall. He doesn't know how to play."

Andretti Zips

170-plus At Indy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mario Andretti broke the 170 mile per hour barrier Monday and turned in the best practice speed of the year at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Andretti, driving a four-wheel-drive Lotus with a turbo-charged Ford Engine, hit 170.197 mph. just 10 minutes before the track closed.

The previous best speed in practice for the Memorial Day 500-mile race was A. J. Foyt's 169.237.

Andretti, former national champion from Nazareth, Pa., has never won at Indy. Foyt is a three-time winner.

Last year's winner, Bobby Unser, of Albuquerque, N.M., turned in the second best time Monday at 167.286.

As he turned Majestic Prince over to a groom, the unbeaten 3-year-old made a feeble attempt at a whinny.

"He doesn't even know how to whinny yet," Longden said. "He's just like a yearling."

"But," Longden added as an afterthought, "he sure as hell knows how to run."

The neck victory over Arts and Letters in the Derby May 3 was the eighth straight for Majestic Prince, and he goes after No. 9 in the $150,000-added Preakness on Saturday.

To insure the son of Raise a Native all the comforts of home on his first trip outside California, Longden imported regular blacksmith Bill Bane from Los Angeles for a prerace shoeing job.

"The prince has one hoof that's a little peculiar," Longden said. "And I wanted Bill to handle him. He's shod him all his life."

Lee Chew Gets WAHS Post

Walker Happy With Alou's Bat

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Harry Walker is well known for his reclamation of Matty Alou, but he claims hands off on brother Jesus Alou, although Jesus is a long way from leading the National League in hitting.

"There's no need to work with this guy," said Walker Monday about Jesus, who has hit only .197 since coming to the Houston Astros in the controversial Don Clendenon trade last winter. "He's probably just pressing. There was so much pressure on him after the publicity about the trade."

"Jesus has been hitting pretty good, but timing has been off. He's a little too quick, not waiting long enough for the pitch."

Walker insists that all he is doing with Jesus is trying to get him to wait longer for the pitch, and that's a far cry from what he did with Matty when Walker was managing Pittsburgh two years ago. By teaching Matty to hit the ball to all fields, he helped turn him into a batting champion that season.

But Walker has tried to let Jesus hit his way out of the early season slump because he feels what he did for Matty does not apply to Jesus.

"Matty had good ability," Walker explains, "but he tried to pull the ball too much. We got him to think differently."

"Matty is a lefty and hitting to the opposite field we felt he could beat out more hits. Jesus is a right-hander so we don't want him going the other way as much. It's easier to be thrown out by the second baseman than by the shortstop or third baseman."

"Matty liked the idea and that made him easy to teach—he was willing to accept it."

And Walker realizes that Matty and Jesus are just different type hitters.

"Jesus has a longer stroke. He doesn't choke the bat as much as Matty, who has a short compact swing. Jesus also lunges at the ball more—even more than the other brother, Felipe. But, surprisingly, Matty hits the ball harder, although he's smaller," Walker says.

MERGER AGREEMENT A CEASE-FIRE

Who Won AFL-NFL War?

NEW YORK (AP) — Who won the war?

That's the big question left unanswered by the participants who worked out the final terms of the armistice between the American and National football leagues.

Under those terms, the Baltimore Colts, Cleveland Browns and Pittsburgh Steelers have shifted from the 16-team NFL to the 10-team AFL, forming two 13-team conferences to begin play in 1970 under the National Football League banner.

Those terms became the last pieces of the merger jigsaw puzzle to fall into place since the almost 3-year-old document ending the war between the two leagues was announced on June 8, 1966.

In that document the two leagues agreed to call an end to the battle that had started in 1960 with the formation of the AFL and had come to the point where a costly contract fight over players threatened the sport's very existence.

The signatories agreed that the AFL would play under the NFL banner beginning in 1970; that the NFL commissioner, Pete Rozelle, would be the commissioner of both leagues, and that $18 million plus the purchase price of the next AFL franchise would be turned over to the NFL.

It was labeled an NFL victory.

The AFL wound up owing $26 million—the Cincinnati franchise went for a price in the $8 million neighborhood—for entry into the NFL club.

In return, the AFL was promised realignment, however, were neither spelled out nor worked out for simple reason that there was no time. That was left for the future. The future became the present at 10 p.m. EDT, Saturday night.

What did the AFL get? They got the Colts, the NFL's champions, one of the premier attractions in all of pro football, and a 60,238-seat ball park that has been filled to capacity for 37 consecutive playing dates.

They got the Browns, the other entry in the NFL title game, and a 79,282-seat ball park that last year gave Cleveland the largest home attendance in all of pro football, 528,000.

They got the Steelers, admittedly one of the lesser attractions, but a team that has a long pro football history and a new 53,000-seat stadium in its future.

Oliver Opens The Door

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Al Oliver rapped a run-scoring single with two out in the ninth inning Monday night, boosting Pittsburgh to a 4-3 victory over San Francisco.

Manny Sanguillen started the Pirates going in the ninth with a one-out double, but he was thrown out at the plate when he tried to score on Richie Hebner's fourth hit, a single to right.

Joe Gibbon walked. Willie Stargell intentionally after Hebner reached second on the throw, and Oliver followed with a single to left.

The Pirates scored twice in the seventh, tying the game 3-3, on an error by Don Mason and two-out triples by Hebner and Stargell off Gaylord Perry.

The Giants went ahead 2-0 in the second on singles by Bobby Bonds, Ron Hunt, Willie McCovey and Jim Hart.

They scored an unearned run in the third after McCovey was safe on a Bill Mazaroski error.

Fergie Foils Padres

CHICAGO (AP) — Ferguson Jenkins stifled San Diego on five hits and drove in the only run he needed as he led the Chicago Cubs to a 2-0 victory over the Padres Monday.

Inclement weather hampered the first weekend of the Member-Member tournament over the weekend. Of the 16 teams scheduled for the event, only three completed the regulation 36 holes at the Conewago Valley Country Club.

Tim Atwell and Rocky O'Shel teamed up to shoot a 72-6 for a one under par total of 138. Howie Johnson and Lester hold the second place slot with a 141.

The remainder of the team will complete their play this coming weekend.

Market Records Another Loss

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, again under profit-taking pressure, slid to another loss Monday—its second straight.

The downdrift, brokers said, apparently was a continuation of last week's activity in which investors started to cash in on gains run up during the recent rally. They said the market had been "somewhat over-extended on the upside" and profit-taking was to be expected.

Named to Represent Presbytery at Meet

Wayne W. Watts, RD1, Pittsfield, has been selected as one of six commissioners to represent the Presbytery of Lake Erie at the 181st general assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A. this week in San Antonio, Texas.

The 840 commissioners at the assembly will consider matters such as the tax exempt status of churches, conscientious objection to war, and world hunger.

Watts is a member of the Irvine United Presbyterian Church.

Crawford County Man Injured

A Crawford County man was injured Saturday when his car hit a tree along Rt. 8 north of Centerville. The driver of the car, Fred W. Tracey, 20, RD 2, Centerville, was taken to Union City hospital with lacerations and internal injuries, state police at Corry said. He was admitted to the hospital and later released. A passenger, Michael Van Tassel, 21, also of RD 2, Centerville, refused treatment, troopers said. Both young men were thrown from the wreckage, they said.

May Day Ceremony Held at St. Luke's

Gloria Stec, of Pittsfield, queen of the tenth annual May Day ceremony at St. Luke's Catholic Church, Youngsville, placed her crown of red roses on the head of Mary, Mother of God and Queen of Heaven, to climax the Mothers Day observance, Sunday.

The crown had been blessed by Father Charles M. Hurley. Queen Gloria also left her sheaf of red roses at the altar, and recited the Gloria Memorare. A procession of grade school children, led by altar boys and the class of first and second graders who had received their first communion a week earlier, preceded the royal retinue into the church.

Members of Queen Gloria's court were Susan Natale, Jill Warner, Susan Kowalski, Toni Lehman and Melody Gurdak. Their escorts were Zach Williams, Marshall Myers, Paul Jarmul, Rudy Manelick and Stacy Gurdak. Cathy Urbanik was the crown bearer and train bearers were Angela Suppa and Joe Edwards. Honor guards were Linda Stec, Sue Bauer, Patty Glosick, Shelly Lauffenberger, Bobbi Miller and Patty Urbanik, with Matt Luvison, Roger Luvison, Tom Gentz, Don Stec, Robin Ingols and Mike Stec as escorts.

Assisting as usherettes were Trudy Sandberg, Cindy Stec, Pam Lauffenberger and Mary Ellen Wittel. Mrs. Valda Papalia was the organist.

Earlier in the day, men of the parish served a banquet for mothers and daughters.

Mother's Day Party at Rouse

More than fifty women guests of the Rouse Home, and a sprinkling of men, attended a Mothers Day party Saturday night. It was planned by a committee of Rouse residents, Callie Mead, Margery McAllister and Barbara Howe. Everybody received a miniature corsage made by a group of Rouse Volunteers, headed by Mrs. Carol Stiller. A prize for the oldest mother present went to Mrs. Maude Kirk, who will shortly celebrate her one hundredth birthday. Another prizewinner was the youngest mother present, Mrs. Lillian Avery.

The Bell Choir of the Youngsville First Methodist Church entertained with musical numbers and appropriate recitations, and the party concluded with sandwiches and jello for all.

Six Vie for Garland Queen

Six girls will vie for the title of Garland Gala Days Queen on Saturday June 14. They are: Connie Wickwire, Ruth Frazier, Robin Schell, Shelly Chase, Judy Brown, and Jeanne Crane.

The girls have already begun their campaigns by placing collection cans carrying their photographs, in area stores. They will also canvass friends and neighbors for "votes"—every penny donated representing a vote, and no limit on the number of votes supporters may cast (nor even on how many candidates they may vote for).

The queen will be the girl who collects the most. The ultimate winner though will be the Garland firemen, who sponsor the gala days annually to raise funds.

Warren Library Gets 8mm Films

To help meet the demand for the popular 8mm films at the Warren Public Library, about sixty additional films have been added to the initial collection of seventy-five.

Included in the new group are several films for children, as well as comedies, historical films and films on various other subjects.

There is a great demand for the 8mm films because many people do not own the more expensive 16mm sound projectors. The library up to now has not been able to fill the needs in this area and, by offering the 8mm films, has added a new dimension to the scope of library service.

The films may be borrowed from the main library and the bookmobile on a regular borrower's card for a period of two weeks. They are not booked for particular dates and are available on a first-come, first-served basis.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping, or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Then sprinkle a little PASTEETH on your plates. PASTEETH holds dentures firmer and more comfortably. Makes eating easier. It's alkaline—doesn't sour. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feel. Helps check plate odor. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get PASTEETH at all drug counters.

Teachers Skip School In Salary Disputes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nearly 400 teachers in two school districts stayed away from classrooms Monday while teachers in two other districts were set to vote on proposed salary agreements.

And, as teacher discontent continued bubbling in Pennsylvania, teachers in a fifth school district temporarily shelved strike plans while salary talks continued.

Teachers in the Pittsburgh suburb of Mount Lebanon prepared to vote on a new contract that would boost their starting salary to $7,000, and increase salaries for the district's 435 teachers by an average of $1,115.

And in Monessen, Westmoreland County, where a walkout halted classes for three days, bargainers reached tentative agreement on negotiations shepherded behind closed doors by Judge Earl Kiem.

The teachers were to vote on the agreement later. It increases the starting salaries to $6,400 for teachers with a bachelor's degree and to $6,700 to those with a master's degree.

A glint of progress was seen in negotiations at the Western Beaver School District, Ohio. Some 87 teachers threatened to walk out Monday, then changed plans and reported to classrooms.

Richard Temple, president of the Western Beaver Teachers Association, said some progress has been made in talks with the school board, but said the teachers would walk out Wednesday if they didn't have a favorable offer.

The teachers are seeking a starting salary of $7,000. There are 1,800 pupils in the district's four schools.

At Neshaminy School District in Bucks County, a strike by 125 teachers moved into its second week.

Teachers rejected a wage offer from the school board Sunday and stayed away from classes. The district brought in substitute teachers and continued classes for pupils in high school and junior high.

The teachers are represented by Local 1417 of the Neshaminy Federation of Teachers.

Classes were cancelled for 6,000 pupils at Sharon Monday after 240 Teachers boycotted classes.

A negotiating session between the Sharon Education Association and the school board fell through Sunday and teachers, who voted to strike last Thursday, stayed away from classes.

The teacher organization wants a starting salary of $6,900 for teachers with a bachelor's degree and $7,500 for those with a master's. They now get $5,700 and $6,300 respectively.

PRIEST ORDAINED HERE SUNDAY

The Rev. Stephen R. Frampton was ordained to the Sacred Priesthood of the Episcopal Church in an impressive ceremony at Trinity Memorial Church at 5 p.m. Sunday. He served as curate of the local church during his diaconate. In June he will become vicar of the Church of the Holy Cross in North East where the Episcopal Church with the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches will launch into an experimental team ministry based on the ecumenical principles of the Consultation on Church Union. Taking part in the ordination ceremony were the Rev. Robert C. Powley, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church of North East, and the Rev. John W. Gordon, pastor of the United Methodist Church of North East. Pictured above is the laying on of hands by the bishop and participating priests, an outward and visible sign of his being set apart for holy service and invested with sacerdotal authority in unbroken continuity since the days of Christ. The ordinand is hidden from view by surrounding clergy; among them were priests from Port Allegany, Franklin, Titusville, New Castle and Clarion. The ordainer and celebrant of the Eucharist was the Rt. Rev. William Crittenden, Bishop of Erie. (Photo by Mahan)

Pennsylvania Leads Nation With Highest Sales Tax of All

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Now that it's officially permanent, Pennsylvania's six per cent sales tax remains the highest rate in the nation.

But—and the men who give advice and statistics to Gov. Raymond P. Shafer are quick to butt in — state and federal figures allege Pennsylvania is way, way down as a sales tax collector. All because it exempts food, clothing and prescription drug purchases, that many other states don't.

There are 44 states now collecting a sales tax — with only buyers in Alaska, Delaware, Montana, New Hampshire, Oregon and Vermont escaping such a levy.

While Pennsylvania's six per cent is the highest U.S. rate, it ranks 26th in the average pay-out by a family of four with an annual income of $9,000.

There are four states that impose a two per cent sales tax — Indiana, Louisiana, Oklahoma and New York; one, Nebraska, that collects 2.5 per cent; 25 that charge 3 per cent; one, Connecticut, at 3.5, six at 4; one, Illinois, at 4.25; two, Washington and Maine, at 4.5, and three, Mississippi, Kentucky and Rhode Island, at 5.

Illinois, which taxes just about everything purchased, ranks first among the collection states — collecting an average of $217 a year from the family of four compared to Pennsylvania's $122. Hawaii, with a 4 per cent tax, gets an average $199 from the typical husband and wife and two kids, while Mississippi at 5 per cent gets $191, a buck more than Washington where the rate is a shade less.

Massachusetts, with a 3 per cent levy, gives a lot of exemptions and gets only $32 — to rank at the bottom of the list.

Hugh E. Flaherty, the governor's secretary for legislation and public affairs, gets upset when Pennsylvania is accused of being a high tax state — and quickly digs out the figures to prove the charge false.

Unfortunately, the taxpayer only sees the rate — six per cent — and his simple arithmetic makes six higher than five or four or three.

Flaherty, however, insists that even with the income tax the governor wants the legislature to enact — and which appears to be dead — Pennsylvania's taxpayers will be paying a smaller tax bill than residents of many other states.

For instance, he cites U.S. Census Bureau figures for 1968 that show the Keystone State with the third largest population ranked 29th in the per capita tax burden. Its average of $152.19 was far below New York with $221.23, Delaware, $267.93; Massachusetts, $174.07, and California, $181.87.

Many citizens don't give a hoot what other states charge, or collect. They're interested only in their own tax bill — and are beefing loudly at efforts of local, state and federal governments to hike the tax take. The real, big holler now is: Cut the budget, economize, make do with what you've got.

Gov. Shafer has proposed a record $2.5 billion budget, and needs $500 million in new taxes to pay for it.

Republicans in both the House and Senate are in open revolt over the budget — and have been suggesting large spending cuts. A few have suggested elimination of food and clothing exemptions in the sales tax, which Democrats said they'd resist.

It's a vicious circle of tax and spend, spend and tax. And anyway you look at it, the consumer pays the bill — eventually.

Erie's New Catholic Bishop Started as a Curate in Warren

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Erie's Roman Catholics will get a new bishop Tuesday morning, but they won't have to face a period of adjustment to their new leader.

The Most Rev. Alfred M. Watson is no stranger to the sprawling diocese and its 218,000 parishioners. The 61-year-old prelate was born, reared and worked his entire church life among the people of the state's northwestern region.

"I know of no place in our country where I would rather serve as bishop than in my native diocese of Erie," says Bishop Watson. "I'm well acquainted with the people and the diocese ... Naturally I hope to have their cooperation."

He appears to have had little difficulty winning cooperation in the past.

He says he wants to continue to involve the entire diocese in the church's affairs.

"It is my hope to involve the priests, nuns and laity as much as possible in the major decisions that will obviously be made in the church," he says.

"I want to get people together and see how they want to solve a problem. I want to ask them: 'What do you want to do?'" Bishop Watson says.

The new bishop, says a colleague, is a quiet man who gets the job done.

"But he gets excited when he gets in the pulpit," he says, "and delivers a good sermon — without a manuscript. He has a very retentive memory. I wish I had his capacity for remembering things."

He earned the reputation as a doer first as a curate at parishes in outlying Warren and Kane, then as a teacher at Erie Prep and Mercyhurst and Gannon colleges and later as an assistant at the diocesan seat in Erie.

It was as a member of the board of consultants to the late Archbishop Gannon in 1956, Bishop Watson began concentrating on the diocese's education program. As coordinator of the seminary and high school fund, he directed a campaign which raised $10 million and set up the archbishop's plan for Education.

The triangular-shaped diocese, which embraces 13 counties, now contains 263 priests in 125 churches, 14 parochial high schools and three colleges, Mercyhurst, Villa Maria and Gannon.

Juniata Graduate Good Is Good to Alma Mater

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jay Omar Good, who died last January at the age of 93, has left $1 million to his alma mater, Juniata College in Huntingdon, Pa.

It was the largest single gift ever made to the college founded in 1876 by the Church of the Brethren.

Good died at a nursing home in suburban Devon, leaving no close relatives. His wife died in 1937.

Good, before he retired, was an assistant to the president of a downtown Philadelphia printing and stationery firm. A college spokesman said Good inherited securities and built his fortune over his long lifetime.

Lester Rosenberger, a Philadelphia industrialist who is vice chairman of the Juniata board, said the college trustees would decide how to use the bequest.

Blacks Do Their Thing At Penn State Festival

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Black students are doing their thing at Pennsylvania State University this week during a black arts festival.

The festival is just a part of an on-going rekindling of our culture. Our rediscovery is a part of a change in perception that black people throughout the country are going through," said Cynthia Cotten, one of about 50 Negro students who organized the festival, known as "It's 'R' Thing."

The festival will include week-long appearances by Congressmen Adam Clayton Powell of Harlem and actress Ruby Dee, revue by black soul singer James Brown on Thursday, and concert by Muddy Waters.

The festival idea grew out of a dramatic production staged by blacks at the school last year.

"Black people here have so much creative ability and it's been going to waste," Miss Cotten said.

The idea developed this year as a week-long festival that will feature plays, dance workshops, art shows, concerts and discussions. Black artists from throughout the state will participate.

"Since we feel that this festival is a part of a new revolutionary mood — the cultural revolution — we want to share it with black people from all over the state," Miss Cotten said.

The festival is a base for development," said Dave Davis of Farrell, another organizer. "As far as black students are concerned, it's pulling us together."

Miss Cotten said almost all of the 254 blacks on the campus of 25,000 are involved in the festival. Miss Cotten said the festival also make the white students more aware of the "wealth

United Refining Declares Dividend

The board of directors of the United Refining Company declared a regular quarterly dividend of 3-3/4 cents per share at a meeting held May 12. The dividend is payable June 14, 1969, to stock of record May 23.

Hospital Union Installs Check

Harold Check, re-elected president of Warren State Hospital Local 469, AFSCME was sworn into office, with his slate of officers at the regular monthly meeting.

Jack Henry, president of Pennsylvania State Employees Council 26, conducted the installation ceremony.

Also re-elected to office were William Burd, treasurer and Marie Crocker, secretary.

Newly-elected officers were Ivan Smith, vice president; Sherm McKown, Bill McClain and Mike Cashmere, executive board and Edward Gustafson, trustee.

Remember, you don't have to spend a million to look like a million. Just be sure to get a lot more for your money.

Example: Cutlass S. This one's got Olds class and quality written all over it.

There's a Rocket 350 V-8—that runs on regular gas. A genuine Olds ride and handling action that make you feel like a million, too. There's even an anti-theft steering column lock you can't get on many cars at any price.

Put them all together and they add up to extra value that goes far beyond the modest Cutlass price.

How to look like a million on the same old budget you had before.

REFLECTIONS

By Betty Rice

Hemingway Galleries of Jamestown, N.Y. will be exhibiting a new series of one-man shows, contemporary and retrospective, beginning Monday, May 19. The initial pattern of shows will alternate every two weeks, starting with the contemporary expressionism of Pascal Cucaro. Pictured above is a Self Portrait by the artist. Born in Youngstown, Ohio, the American Cucaro studied in California School of Fine Arts and with Fernand Leger in Paris. He enjoyed a long term exhibit in San Francisco's "Hungry I" where show business personalities began collecting his works. His first one-man museum show was at Butler Institute of Arts in Youngstown in 1958 and he has shown in many university galleries and museums in the United States and abroad. Among his collectors are Anne Baxter, Raymond Burr, Joseph Cotten, William Holden, Burgess Meredith, Alistair Cook, Molly Goldberg and Patrice Munsel.

As a boy Cucaro worked several summers in a circus. The color and excitement there left an indelible imprint in the paintings he has done of crowd scenes and clowns. The "crowd" theme, which he calls "people-people painting" is a favorite motif for Cucaro and he has used it brilliantly to create a series of improvisations ranging from representational to expressionism. His technique is quite direct and includes any media -- oils, acrylics, chinese ink, lacquers and so on. Cucaro uses brush, knife, fingers or anything that comes to hand which will suit. The Hemingway Galleries are open week days (or by appointment--456-1101) and located at 201 Lafayette street in Jamestown.

Just before Mother's Day--Overheard was a delightful conversation in a local emporium: A father with small daughter and son was faced with selecting just the right card for Mom. This accomplished, the little girl agreed with Dad that a corsage would be the fitting tribute. Not so the boy in the family -- what he had in mind (for Mother) was a pony ride!

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

If you let your pet sleep on the foot of your bed, here's a good hint.

Take a worn, zipped-end pillow cover and loosely stuff it with rags. Then teach your pet to sleep on this. Sure saves your bed covers.

And did you know that your pet could save your life in case of fire or burglars, especially if you live alone?

United In Marriage

Mary Louise Yonik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yonik, RD 1, Tidioute, Pa. and Harry Edward Hopkins Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hopkins Sr., E. 147th street, Cleveland, Ohio, were united in marriage at 2 p.m., Saturday, April 26, 1969 in St. John's Roman Catholic Church of Tidioute.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Kuzula of Erie before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli, mums and carnations. Mrs. Julia Wojciechowski was organist.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of white silk organza fashioned with molded empire bodice and A-line skirt trimmed with baby seed pearls and aurora borealis, round, simple neckline and long fitted sleeves ending in wedding points. There was a tiny bow at the empire waist and the train was secured by a large bow in back.

Her bouffant fingertip veil of French pure silk illusion was caught to organza petals outlined with baby seed pearls and aurora borealis and she carried white sweetheart roses with ivy.

The bride's sister, Margaret Piper of Norfolk, Va., was matron of honor and was attired in a floor length gown of pale green. Her headdress was an ivy wreath with pink, blue and green daisies. Sandra Thompson of Beaver, Pa. and Marg Turk, Boothwyn, Pa. were bridesmaids and wore floor length frocks of pink and blue and headpieces were identical to the honor attendants. Dan Craig of Shelocta, Pa., served as his cousin's best man and ushers were John Morrison and Tom Martin, both of Tidioute.

The bride's mother wore a pink street length dress with pink sweetheart rose corsage and the bridegroom's mother chose a blue dress with matching jacket and pink rose corsage. Mrs. Clementine Beam and Mrs. Emma Cribbs, grandmothers of the bridegroom were favored with corsages of pink carnations.

The wedding reception for about 50 guests was held at Mountain Grange Hall. Aides were Mrs. Andrew Check and Mrs. Francis Czemarda.

For a honeymoon trip to the Virginias and then to Niagara Falls, the new Mrs. Hopkins wore a long sleeved dress of pale blue. She is presently attending Grove City College and her husband is serving with the U.S. Army.

A shower for the bride was given by Sandra Thompson and the rehearsal dinner was held at the bridegroom's home.

Out-of-town guests were present from Saltsburg, McKeesport, Spring Church, Shelocta, Leechburg, Ambridge, Lower Burnell, Erie, Corry, Pittsburgh, Commodore, Warren, Glen Campbell, Pa.; Cleveland, Parma, Chagrin, Youngstown and Chardon, Ohio; Chatham, Somerset, Wayne, N.J.; Norfolk, Va.

St. Michael's Notes

Mother's Day was solemnly observed in the parish with the Choral Divine Liturgy celebrated in their honor and the interpolation into the Liturgy of the Requiem Commemorations for the deceased mothers of the parish. Red carnations were presented to the mothers by the pastor as they approached the Royal Doors of the sanctuary. A breakfast for mothers followed the Liturgy in the church pavilion.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Connell of Arlington, Va. were guests at the Mother's Day choral Divine Liturgy.

Tuesday evening the women's societies of the parish will be the guests of the Tabor Evangelical Lutheran Church in Kane. The women are urged to meet in front of St. Michael's Church at 7 p.m. for the trip to Kane.

Thursday is a Holy Day of Obligation, the Feast of the Ascension of Our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. The Divine Liturgy will be sung at 9 a.m. and at 7 p.m.

This feast is of great antiquity. St. Augustine (354-430) attests that it is of apostolic origin. An ancient tradition relates that Christ's Ascension took place on the Mount of Olives.

This feast commemorates the departure of Christ in His glorified body from this world to the right hand of God the Father in heaven. The glorious ascension of Jesus took place forty days after His resurrection. Wherefore the Ascension is celebrated on the fortieth day after Easter to commemorate this event.

Next Sunday commemorates the Nicean Holy Fathers. This Sunday reminds us of the first universal Council assembled at Nicaea in 325. The Council was convened by the first Christian Emperor, Constantine the Great with the sanction of Pope Sylvester I. During this Council

Welcome Wagon Club Tour

Welcome Wagon Club members toured the Warren County Historical Society at their May 8 meeting.

Some of the more interesting points of the tour included a display of articles dating from the Spanish-American War, belonging to Col. Fred Windsor and a collection of Pilsen Company bottles and literature.

Another highlight was the Julius Bourquin Store. This room, which contains articles actually taken from the Bourquin store in Tidioute, was presented as a memorial to Carolyn Bourquin by her brother, Dr. Justin Bourquin.

Club members learned details of Thomas Struthers' personal and business life, which included bringing the railroad to Warren and opening of the Struthers' Library.

At the business meeting preceding the tour, Mrs. Benton Mitcham was named new social chairman and Mrs. Thomas the Arian heresy was condemned and the articles of the Nicene Creed formulated and the date of Easter was set.

Students In Recital

Rachel Eaton presented a group of her piano students in recital May 8 at the Woman's Club. Those present stated pleasure was derived from a well planned program with accurate and musical performances by the young players. In addition, the basicness of piano and enjoyment of small group playing was demonstrated by assisting instrumentalists and their accompanists.

A trio consisting of Edward Duliba, Harry Levinson and Lee Ann Levinson, cello, recorder and piano with a cello by Duliba, a student of Eleanor Sandblade, complemented piano numbers.

The following also participated: Daniel Levinson, Sherry Wood, Reese Campbell, Sarah Beth Levinson, Susan Dorn, Kathy Fanaritis, Nancy Hill, Laura Laurich, Elaine Mauchline, Joan Sedon, Michele Blair, Jodi Bunk, Jane Porter, Brian Segel, Laurie Tranter, David Shortt, Cathy Werner and Tim Horne.

Open House

Open House will be observed Saturday, May 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis V. Ord, Russell-Lander Road, in honor of their 45th wedding anniversary. The affair planned by the couple's children with hours 2-5 and 7-9 p.m.

Anr Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This letter should be of interest to "Smokehouse Secretary" and others who resent being gassed by inconsiderate slob who smoke and think every one else should put up with it. Help is on the way!!

Sixty-four teen-agers in Bakersfield, California are conducting an advertising campaign which we created ourselves. Our aim is to make smoking look dumb and ridiculous instead of glamorous. We call the project "Smoke Out." Here's what we are doing. We have launched a full-scale advertising campaign—mostly radio and TV. We got started with the help of the Kern County Inter-Agency Council on Smoking and Health. We have buttons, book covers and bumper stickers which say "Smoke-Choke-Croak." Here's one of our radio commercials: "Worried about the population explosion. Have a cigaret." Another: "Don't smoke in bed. You might burn a hole in your lungs."

One of our TV commercials shows an elegantly gowned woman—smoking. A voice says, "She smokes." Then there's a shot of burning trash. Another voice says "So does the city dump."

Our project is a tremendous success out here in Bakersfield and we hope it spreads to other communities.—GLORIA ZIGNER, PROJECT COORDINATOR

Dear Gloria: So do I. As a non-smoker who has croaked and choked on other people's cigaret smoke for too many years, I am delighted with your project.

I urge teen-agers in other cities who want information on how to get started to write to "Smoke Out, P. O. Box 4, Bakersfield, California, 93302. And now, you readers out there who are under the impression that our country's teen-agers divide their time between smoking marijuana, roaming in gangs and committing mayhem on the city's streets, please read this again.

How far should a teen-age couple go? Can necking be safe? Then does it become too hot to handle? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking And Petting—What Are The Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Opening lead: King of ♠.
Leading thru strength and up to weakness are generalizations designed to assist the defender in the absence of more specific information. When the evidence suggests that a lead should be made into the suit bid by the concealed hand, however, the player should put the rule book to one side and rely on his common sense.

South opened the bidding with one heart and, despite determined competition by the opposition in spades, he eventually bought the contract for five diamonds when his second bid uncovered a fit with North.

West opened the king of spades and when the dummy came down with a singleton, West decided to shift. He was reluctant to lead a heart in view of declarer's original bid of that suit. He therefore led the ace of clubs hoping to find his partner with the king.

When South followed to the trick with the king of clubs, the defense was finished. West belatedly led a heart, however declarer played the ace, drew trump and proceeded to discard the rest of his hearts on North's established clubs. His losses on the deal consisted of a spade and a club.

West's fears were not well founded. Suppose, for example, that South has all the missing high cards in hearts. A shift to that suit will not present the declarer with anything that he cannot do for himself. Moreover, there is virtually no chance that South can discard enough clubs from dummy to avert any natural losers he may have in that suit.

In short, club tricks cannot get away from the defense, so there is no urgent reason for shifting to that suit. If West leads a heart at trick two, East puts up the king to drive out declarer's ace and now when West regains the lead with the ace of clubs, he is in position to defeat the contract by cashing the queen of hearts.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars. FOR TUESDAY, MAY 13, 1969
ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Mixed influences. Keep your guard up, disposition even, wits keen. Be wary of flatterers and other insincere types.
TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Scrutinize all offerings, but do not miss out through over-cautiousness, in accepting those which are good. Balance liabilities and assets sheet; note and attend requirements promptly.
GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—There's a tendency now to take off on tangents or useless ventures if you do not keep your mind on immediate objectives. Keep budget matters in hand. Let moderation be your keyword.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—Some restraint in order now; also some rechecking of plans. Prospects brightening in several areas. Be sure to get your share of profits.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Balance earnings against expenditures and you will know where tactics, moves should be altered, stepped up or retarded. Heed sound advice; shun needless discussions.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Map out a clearly defined program, devoid of time-wasters, then follow it conscientiously. But do not press. Easy does it! Gains indicated for sound effort.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Endeavors of the past should bring reward now. Keep up the good work! Handle all obligations in your able fashion, your normal way. No doubt about possibilities!

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

LAWN MOWER INJURIES

Power lawn mowers are safe when handled correctly. Furthermore, the industry has waged an excellent campaign to lessen the possibility of accidents. But despite the best intentions, accidents continue to rise in astronomical proportions, mainly due to carelessness of the operator.

Rotary mowers are responsible for most of the injuries possibly because of their popularity. The typical story involves Tom, who is mowing a damp lawn and the wet grass clumps in the discharge chute. With the motor running, he reaches into the opening without realizing how close the blade is to the fingers.

Whoops! One, two, three or four fingers are cut with a 30 per cent chance that the injury will result in the amputation of at least one digit. The blade speed is so rapid that it is impossible to withdraw the hand without being struck repeatedly. In these accidents, the average loss of time from work in adults is six weeks. Children are usually injured while the appliance is unattended and the motor is running. A word to the wise is sufficient!

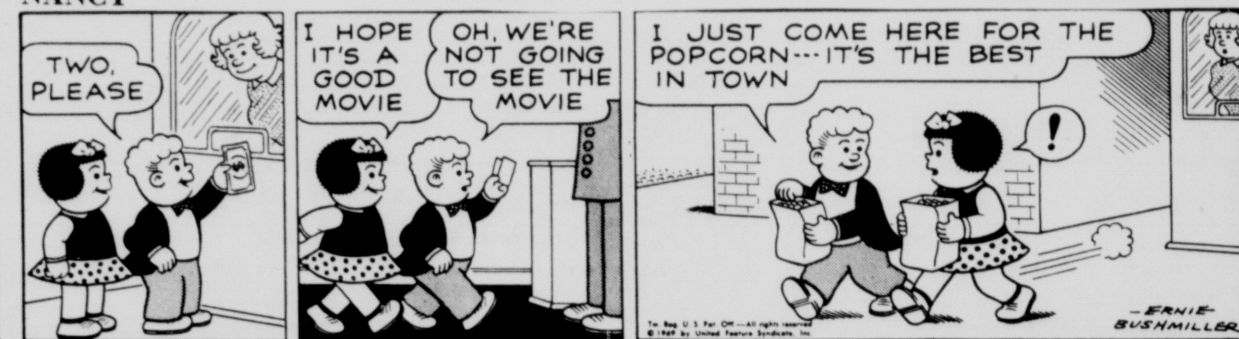

The horizontal blade of the rotary mower cuts by velocity alone. In this respect there is no stationary bed-knife. It has a speed up to 4,000 revolutions per minute. Should the blade strike a stone, stick, bolt, nail or screw it will hurl the object up to 300 feet per second. Each year thousands of bystanders and operators are struck with these missiles.

An estimated 80,000 individuals are injured annually by these machines. Mowers have many safety features but are not idiot-proof. Homeowners do what many farm-

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22)—Do not become too deeply involved in the affairs of others or you could invite fatigue, distress. An excellent performance is possible -- with enduring benefits.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—In tight or tiring situations, remain at ease, think things out; don't rush in without full data or know-how. With these admonitions in mind, you can have a satisfactory day.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Take care of essentials assiduously, with primary factors thoroughly understood. Fine aspects encourage bright beginnings, sustained effort.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Improving conditions, but some areas need more patience, stronger effort. Your special talents qualify you to reap benefits.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—You may not accomplish all that you wish, but you will attain many things—through an unflinching spirit of enterprise, plus self-discipline. Avoid hasty decisions.

YOU BORN TODAY are a fair-minded person who weighs all possibilities before making decisions, who aims to make those decisions for the good of all concerned, not a few. In Taurus there are excellent judges and lawyers, and your sense of humor plays no little part. You often take to the arts as a second career, or as a pastime. Having a well regulated mind, you like to find the same in others; are disappointed and sometimes hurt when people do not understand your methods nor, seemingly, yourself. Never mind! Carry on! Birthdate of: Sir Arthur Sullivan, composer (Gilbert and Sullivan); George Braque, Fr. painter.

ers are accused of doing, they remove guards but do not replace them. Certain precautionary measures should be followed. Above all, keep hands and feet away from mower blades when the motor is running. Remove all small objects from the lawn before cutting the grass. Stop the engine before pushing the device across gravel walks or driveways. And, remember the kids; stop the engine when the mower is left unattended.

TOMORROW: Typhoid Spreaders.

Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

INHERITED NOSEBLEED
A reader writes: Are frequent nosebleeds inherited? My two brothers and I get them and so did our father and grandfather.

REPLY
There is an hereditary condition that leads to nose bleed—hereditary hemorrhagic telangiectasia. Members of the family are born with fragile nasal capillaries that rupture and bleed for little or no reason.

THROAT DRIPS CONSTANTLY
N.L. writes: What causes mucus in the back of the throat?

REPLY
Postnasal drip usually stems from infection in the nose or throat. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on this subject.

NO MENSTRUATION AT 18
A. H. writes: Is there anything seriously wrong with a girl who is going on 18 and hasn't menstruated yet?

REPLY
There may not be, but since she might be concerned a pelvic examination is in order. A metabolism test and blood count should also be done.

Add a maximum of $10,400.00 to your health protection for only $1

★ Pays to a maximum of $10,400.00 tax-free cash for each new hospital stay ★ Pays $100.00-A-WEEK cash each time you are hospitalized... to a maximum of 2 years
★ Pays all cash direct to you (not to doctor or hospital) ★ Pays in addition to any other companies' coverage you have—as well as Medicare
★ Guaranteed renewable—we can never cancel your valuable protection ★ No age limit—no medical examination ★ No salesman will call

Just $1 enrolls your entire family for the first month (then you may continue at World Mutual's regular low rates)

ACT NOW—YOUR ENROLLMENT-APPLICATION MUST BE MAILED BY MIDNIGHT SAT., MAY 17, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

ONE out of two families will have someone in the hospital this year! It could be you—or some beloved member of your family tomorrow... next week... next month. Sad to say, very few families have anywhere near enough coverage to meet today's soaring hospital costs. These costs have more than doubled in just a few short years. They are expected to double again in the few years ahead.

Stop for a moment. Think how much a long stay in the hospital will cost you or a loved one. How would you ever pay for costly, but necessary, X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? What would you do if your pay check stopped, but living expenses kept going on the same as ever? The same rent, phone, food, all the day-to-day expenses that never stop.

What is the average breadwinner to do? We believe we have the answer in the famous World Mutual Extra Cash Plan that Pays you $100.00-a-week tax-free cash when you are hospitalized.

What a blessing it is when you know you have an extra $100.00 cash coming in every week—beginning the very first day you enter the hospital.

Now, World Mutual's Extra Cash Plan enables you to enjoy this protection at once. Because it will NOT cost you $20.00. It will NOT cost you $10.00—or even $5.00. Your low price is just $1 for the first month's coverage for your entire family. Then continue at World Mutual's regular low insure-by-mail rates.

The added protection you NEED!

All benefits of this World Mutual $100.00-A-WEEK Hospital Plan are paid directly to you, in tax-free cash, in addition to whatever you may receive from your insurance in any other companies! Spend the money as you see fit—for hospital or doctors' bills, mortgage payments—or any necessary but costly extras not fully covered by usual hospital policies.

Everything costs more these days (need we tell you?) and hospital care is certainly no exception! While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most have found it does not cover all bills that pile up when sickness or accident strikes. That's why World Mutual developed low-cost Extra Cash protection that helps you pay hospital costs or other expenses!

You get your $100.00 per week—from your first day in the hospital, and as long as you are confined there, even to a maximum of 2 years, if necessary. And, when you and your insured spouse are hospitalized at the same time for an accidental injury, World Mutual pays out an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE CASH BENEFIT. You receive not $100.00, but $200.00 a week. Your spouse receives not $100.00, but $200.00 a week. That's $400.00 in all, in cash payments to you every week while you both remain in the hospital—to the full maximum of 2 years!

For older folks—greater protection than you ever would have thought possible!

Right now, would advancing age prevent you from getting hospital insurance, or income protection with another company? Or if you could get a policy elsewhere, would you have to pay a big premium for it? Your "life saver" could be this World Mutual Extra Cash Plan—because World Mutual welcomes folks of all ages into its Plan. Even if you're 65 or over, even if you're OVER 100—each time you go to the hospital you collect $70.00 a week for the first 13 weeks, and a full $100.00 weekly while continuously hospitalized thereafter... to a maximum of 2 years!

Guaranteed renewable for life.

And you can count on World Mutual's wonderful protection no matter how old you get or how many times you collect from us. It is written into your policy that we cannot cancel your PAYS to a maximum of $10,400.00 CASH for each accident or illness, starting the very first day in the hospital.

PAYS to a maximum of $10,010.00 CASH when you're 65 or over—at the rate of $70.00-A-WEEK for the first 13 weeks, and a full $100.00 weekly while you remain in the hospital thereafter (for 91 more weeks if necessary) in addition to benefits you receive from Medicare.
PAYS to a maximum of $41,600.00 CASH when both husband and wife are hospitalized at same time for accidental injury, for as long as both remain in the hospital—at the rate of $400.00-A-WEEK.
PAYS to a maximum of $2,000.00 CASH for complete accidental loss of limbs or eyesight.
PAYS $100.00-A-WEEK CASH for each pregnancy requiring a hospital stay, when both husband and wife are insured for entire pregnancy and have Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits.
PAYS to a maximum of $6,240.00 at the rate of $60.00 A WEEK when a child is hospitalized for accident or illness (with Coverage for Children added to the basic plan).
NO age limit—no medical examination required—no salesman will call.

IF YOU ARE 65 OR OVER YOU WILL COLLECT TO A MAXIMUM OF $10,010.00 CASH IN ADDITION TO MEDICARE BENEFITS

Why are smart folks over 65 now hastening to protect themselves with the World Mutual Extra Cash Plan in addition to what Medicare will do for them?

Even though Medicare is a great boon to folks over 65, it will not, of course, pay all the bills that quickly pile up as a result of illness or accident.

Regardless of your age, you still need additional health protection.

We have designed this plan as the important addition to whatever is paid by Medicare—or health insurance you may have in any other companies. Remember, all checks will be sent directly to you (not to the doctor or hospital), to give you that "extra" help just when you need it most. Use the tax-free cash any way you see fit. And you will be glad to know the checks will be big ones! In addition to what you receive from Medicare, World Mutual pays you $70.00 a week for the first 13 weeks and a full $100.00 weekly while continuously hospitalized thereafter... for 91 more weeks if necessary! You can receive to a maximum of $10,010.00 for each new illness or injury when hospitalized!

protection after you've made a lot of claims, or become old—or both. It is GUARANTEED RENEWABLE FOR LIFE! (Of course, if deception is used in making application the policy may be ineffective.)

And that's not all. Suppose you have a growing family—This World Mutual Plan (WNL 19-968)...

... Pays you $100.00-a-week cash maternity benefits when pregnancy results in hospitalization.

Ordinary hospital insurance may take care of part of your expenses when you go to the hospital to have a baby. But what policy can you think of that pays cash direct to you to help buy all the things you need for the new baby? Now, if both husband and wife are insured for the entire period of pregnancy and have added Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits, you get extra cash to use any way you want. If a pregnancy, childbirth or even miscarriage puts you in the hospital for one day, five days, 10 days—as long as necessary—you get $100.00 a week for every day of your confinement to a maximum of 2 years!

All these added cash benefits. Yes, in addition to $100.00 a week for hospitalization or $100.00-a-week maternity benefits... you get all this:

Added cash benefit: A maximum of $2,000.00 cash for accidental loss of limbs or eyesight, when the loss occurs anytime within 90 days of the accident. The loss of a limb or eyesight is a terrible thing. Nothing can replace the loss, but a check of $1,000.00 or $2,000.00 brings peace of mind during the period of readjustment.

Added cash benefit: Choose Coverage for Children (with or without Maternity Benefits) and all your dependent, unmarried children from ages 1 month through 18 years will be covered, too! World Mutual pays to a maximum of $6,240.00 at the rate of $60.00 a week when your youngster goes to the hospital... for tonsillitis, appendicitis or any other illness or injury. Yes, you will receive $60.00 a week cash, week after week while the child is in the hospital—even to a maximum of 104 weeks!

We pay your premiums when you are not able.

To safeguard family security—if you (the person to whom the basic plan is issued) are hospitalized just 8 weeks or more, all premiums for you and all Covered Members of your family that come due while you are still in the hospital after this period will be paid by World Mutual! And your protection continues as if you were paying the premiums yourself! Then if you leave the hospital and must return for the same condition before you have resumed full normal activities for 180 days, World Mutual will again PAY ANY PREMIUMS WHICH COME DUE WHILE YOU ARE IN THE HOSPITAL—TO A MAXIMUM OF 2 YEARS per confinement! This means you pay no further premiums while you are still hospitalized for this condition, yet your full protection remains in force!

THIS LIMITED ENROLLMENT OFFER ENDS SOON.

Only $1 for First Month—Money-Back Guarantee.

You can now have your first month's protection for your entire family for only one dollar! But you must act immediately. Your request for this wonderful Extra Cash Hospital Plan must be mailed on the convenient Enrollment-Application NOT LATER THAN MIDNIGHT of the date shown.

This midnight expiration hour cannot be extended. If your form is mailed later, it cannot be accepted.

These are the ONLY exclusions!

Your World Mutual policy covers every conceivable kind of sickness or accident except conditions caused by war or any act of war; mental disease or disorder; where care is in a U.S. Government hospital; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your policy... during the first 2 years only.

This last item is a real help if you already have a health problem. If you are sick before you take out this policy, you will even be covered for the condition after the policy has been in effect for only 2 years. Meanwhile, of course, every new condition is covered immediately!

How can I buy so much?

You can buy ordinary insurance at any time and pay the regular rates, if you wish. But World Mutual can now provide you and your entire family with tax-free Extra Cash Protection for just $1 the first month. How? Because we enroll a large number of people at one time—direct by mail! This highly efficient "Mass Enrollment" method cuts costs to the bone—and the savings are passed on to you!

Make your decision carefully.

Think how costly a hospital confinement will be. Imagine paying for those indispensable doctor, surgical and nursing services that are not covered by your present insurance.

Would you be able to afford the quiet and privacy of a private room and a private nurse, should you so desire? Or a telephone to keep in touch with loved ones? Or the rental of a TV set to help pass the lonely hours? Who would pay your doctor bills that keep on coming in at home? Many folks have lost their life savings, their cars, even their homes trying to meet such expenses. And no one knows whose turn it will be next.

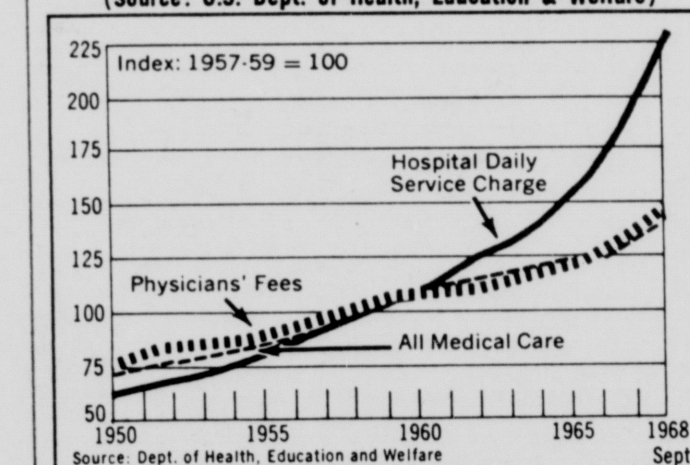

Why you must act before the date shown on your Enrollment-Application—just a few days from today.

Why do we give you so little time to apply for your insurance policy—only a few days? Because we must receive your Enrollment-Application the same time as all the others in order to pass on to you the savings that come from processing many policies at one time.

We mail you the policy as soon as we receive your Enrollment-Application. When the policy arrives, examine it in the privacy of your own home. Take all the time you need. It's a very short document, and you'll be pleasantly surprised to discover there is NO FINE PRINT. Then—show it, if you wish, to someone you trust. Perhaps your lawyer, accountant, or banker. Better still—show it to your own insurance man... even though he may very well be working for another company! If he is a personal friend, he has your best interests in mind. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better bargain available anywhere—at any price!

Medical Costs Skyrocketing!

(Source: U.S. Dept. of Health, Education & Welfare)

Govt. figures reveal your present health protection... may no longer protect you against today's rising medical costs!

Don't leave your loved ones defenseless! Act at once to add coverage that provides to a maximum of $10,400.00 health protection for only $1 for the first month for entire family.

Money back guarantee—in case you change your mind.

Even after you mail your Enrollment-Application... even after you examine the policy in your own home and talk it over with anyone you wish... even after all this you are still free to return the policy within 15 days and your dollar will be refunded at once. There will be no obligation whatever.

Meanwhile, all during the 15 days you are making up your mind... you'll be protected by $100.00-A-WEEK extra cash benefits just as if you had already said "yes". That's right, you will be covered all this time for any accident or illness which puts you in the hospital, even if you finally decide to return the policy.

However, after you've seen the policy for yourself, you will surely agree that this is a tremendous value and you'll want to continue this $100.00-A-WEEK extra cash protection.

Here are the wonderful low rates.

The following rate chart shows how little it costs after the first month to cover yourself, your spouse, and any adult dependents. Each person must be 16 or over, and pays (per person) the rate shown for his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium
16-44	only $3.45
45-49	only $3.95
50-54	only $4.45
55-59	only $4.95
60-69	only $5.95
70-74	only $6.95
75 and over	only $8.95

Only $2 more covers all your dependent, unmarried children

... from the ages of 1 month through 18 years. And then, if you wish, just add $1 more to that, and you're completely covered for Maternity Benefits too! Newborn children are covered automatically at the age of one month—at no additional cost! The regular Monthly Premium shown here (for age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next! Once you have enrolled in this Presidential plan, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state!

Act now—"later" may be too late!

TIME IS PRECIOUS! Act quickly. (No salesman will call.) Get your Enrollment-Application into the mail today—because once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any cost. The sooner you mail your Enrollment-Application, the sooner your protection starts. That's why we urge you to act today—before anything unexpected happens.

THESE 19 QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tell us how World Mutual's EXTRA CASH HOSPITAL PLAN gives you the protection you need—at amazingly low cost!

1. How much will my policy pay me when I go to the hospital?
We pay you $100.00 per week—to the full maximum of $10,400.00 cash. (If you're over 65, you collect to a maximum of $10,010.00 cash benefit on top of your Medicare benefits: $70.00-a-week for first 13 weeks and $100.00 weekly while you remain continuously hospitalized afterwards, for a maximum of 91 additional weeks!) You collect cash not just for yourself, but for all covered members of your family when they are hospitalized! And you collect cash even if you're in the hospital for only one day!

2. When do I collect $2,000.00 extra cash for accidents?
We pay you $1,000.00 extra cash for complete accidental loss of one hand or one foot or sight of one eye, and $2,000.00 extra cash for loss of both hands or both feet or sight of both eyes—even if the loss occurs as long as 3 months after the accident.

3. What if I am hospitalized by the same illness—again?
You still collect your $100.00-a-week extra cash to the full normal activities of $10,400.00. You need only to have resumed full normal activities for just 180 days—then if you are hospitalized for the same illness you collect all over again.

4. If I receive more money than my total medical bills—do I keep the "extra cash"?

You certainly do! We always pay you the full $100.00-a-week—all the way to the maximum of $10,400.00 cash. And even if your bills add up to just part of that amount, you still keep every dollar of the extra cash—tax-free! That's why this policy's called an extra cash plan. It's perfectly possible under this plan for you to come out of the hospital with extra dollars you can use for bills, rent, or anything else. And if you already have some hospital insurance, it's all the better for you. Because we pay you anyway, on top of what they pay you! On top of Blue Cross, Major Medical. Workmen's Compensation! Or whatever insurance policies you have with other companies!

5. Do you pay me cash even for my children, too? And... for my "future" children?
Yes! We pay $100.00-a-week cash anytime your child goes to the hospital. When Coverage for Children is added to basic plan. A maximum of $6,240.00 each time dependent, unmarried child (ages 1 month through 18 years old) is in the hospital for sickness or injury. And if you have a growing family—as soon as your newborn child's one month old, he too is covered—automatically... at no additional cost to you.

6. Will you pay me $100.00-a-week cash—even for Pregnancy?
Yes! Many health plans don't cover pregnancy. But we do, when Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits is added to the basic plan. You collect maximum cash benefits of $10,400.00—for pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in a hospital stay. (Both parents have to be enrolled in this plan for entire pregnancy.)

7. Are there times I might collect as much as $20,800.00... as much as $41,600.00?
There are! Remember, we pay cash not just for you, but for every covered member of your family. So if you or your spouse are hospitalized more than once... or even both of you more than once... or if a child gets sick or has an accident... you could end up collecting $20,800.00 or more! And that's not the whole story. World Mutual gives policyowners an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE-CASH BENEFIT. If you and your covered spouse are both in an accident and go to the hospital at the same time... World Mutual pays you and your spouse $400.00-a-week tax-free cash. This amount is paid for as long as both of you remain in the hospital. Even for 2 years! You receive up to a maximum of $41,600.00—to pay for doctor and hospital bills and other expenses resulting from one accident alone! We have illnesses and accidents double the amount you would get from other health plans! So you can decide how it's so well protected!

8. Can I spend my cash benefits any way I please?
Yes! Spend the money any way you choose. Use it to pay your hospital, doctor, and nursing bills. Use it to pay for rent, food, clothing. Or put it in the bank to replace any income you lost during your hospitalization. All cash comes straight to you (not to doctor or hospital unless you request it) so you alone decide how it is to be spent!

9. Must I pay taxes on the money you send me?
Certainly NOT! Every dollar we send you is 100% tax-free.

10. Am I ever allowed to stop paying premiums during a long stay in the hospital—yet still remain fully covered?
Yes, you are! All premiums that come due after you—the person to whom the basic policy is issued—are in the hospital just 8 weeks or more... do not have to be paid! Yes, even if you are in the hospital a year, or longer! We pay all premiums for you, and for all covered members of your family, too, while you remain hospitalized. You aren't expected to pay us back either.

11. How can you give me so much—for so little?
Because you buy your policy directly from the company. You don't deal through middlemen. You eliminate costly processing charges and "red tape" that are added into the cost of most insurance. That's the reason why World Mutual can provide you with exceptional, high-savings health insurance protection, including a full month's coverage for your family for only $1!

12. How do I go about making a claim?

We invite you to contact CASH BENEFITS HEADQUARTERS direct. Whether you want to make a claim, or just ask us a question, don't hesitate to contact us. As a World Mutual policyowner, you are entitled to prompt, courteous and direct attention at all times... and you will get it.

13. Because World Mutual costs less... do I get less protection?
Absolutely not. You get more! $100.00 weekly cash payments for a maximum of 2 years for each hospital stay. And that goes for all covered members of your family. Yet all you pay to put this policy in force for one month is... $1. And if you want, continue this protection afterwards at the regular low World Mutual rate! That's why we urge you for your own satisfaction—to compare these big cash benefits with any comparable policy issued by any other insurance company... anywhere.

14. Now tell me what's the "catch"—what doesn't my policy cover?
Get ready for a welcome surprise. Your policy covers everything except conditions caused by (a) war or act of war; (b) mental disease or disorder; (c) where care is in a U.S. Government hospital; (d) pregnancy except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and (e) any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your policy—but even this last "exclusion" is done away with after you've been a policyowner for only two years. Everything else is definitely covered.

15. Will you cancel my policy if I make too many claims? Or because of age?
No—positively not! Only you can cancel. The company cannot—no matter how many claims you have... how old you get or for any other reason whatsoever. A GUARANTEED-RENEWABLE-FOR-LIFE clause has been written into your policy. (Of course, if deception is used in making application, the policy may be ineffective.)

16. If I'm hospitalized less than a week—do you still pay in full?
Yes! We pay you for every day you're in the hospital. There's no "waiting period" before you start collecting.

17. What are the requirements to enroll in this Extra Cash Hospital Plan?
You must not have been refused or had cancelled any health, hospital or life insurance due to reasons of health; and, to qualify during this enrollment period, you must enroll before midnight of the date shown in the Enrollment-Application.

18. Besides saving money—are there any other advantages of joining World Mutual during the enrollment period?
Yes. A very important one is that you don't need to complete a regular application—just the brief Enrollment-Application in the corner of this page. Also, during this enrollment period there are no extra requirements for eligibility, and no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your policy!

19. How do I enroll?
Fill out the brief Enrollment-Application and mail it with just $1 for the first month's protection for your entire family. Mail to: World Mutual Health and Accident Ins. Co. of Penna., 11401 Roosevelt Blvd., Philadelphia, Pa. 19154.
